CATALOGUE

A BECKETT (GILBERT ABBOTT).—Autograph Contract between A Beckett and Francis Davidge covering the production of A Beckett's opera "Little Red Riding Hood." 12 June, 1842. Autographed in three places: G. A. A Beckett, Fr. Davidge; John Nash (witness).

Folio.

A BECKETT (GILBERT ABBOTT).—The Comic Blackstone.

See Cruikshank Illustrations.

ACHE (CARAN D').—Album Caran d'Ache. First, Second and Third Series: Bric-a-brac Album. C'est à Prendre ou à Laisser Album. Paris, n. d.

4to, half crimson morocco.

Numerous illustrations.

ADDISON (JOSEPH) AND STEELE (SIR RICHARD).—The Spectator. Complete set of the 555 original numbers, as issued, from Thursday, March 1st, 1711, to Saturday, Dec. 6th, 1712.

Folio, one volume, sprinkled calf, gilt, by R. de Coverley.

This contains all the numbers published of the original Spectator, but several numbers of another periodical under the same name, with which neither Addison nor Steele had had anything to do, were afterwards printed. This series contains the last number of the original, in which Steele closes the publication, and has also Nos. 613 and 618 of "Vol. VIII" of the Pseudo Spectator, issued by the same publishers.

CATALOGUE OF THE LIBRARY OF

This was Frederick Locker's copy, from the Rowfant Library. Three interesting letters from Austin Dobson, with reference to the completion of the numbers for Locker, are inserted.

Some of the later numbers have the original revenue stamp. The volume has a specially printed title: "A Compleat Sett of the 'Spectators,' by Richard Steele, Esq." In addition to the papers on Sir Roger de Coverley (by Addison and Steele) the first appearance of Pope's "The Messiah" is in No. 338. Pope also contributed Nos. 404 and 408 and a short paper in 527.

ALDINE PRESS.—DANTE. Le Terze Rime di Dante. (Lo 'Nferno e'l Purgatorio e'l Paradiso di Dante Aligheri). [Colophon] Venetiis Aedib. Aldi. Accuratissime Men. Aug. MDII.

24mo, full crushed levant morocco, edges marbled under the gilt by Trautz-Bauzonnet.

The first Aldine Edition. Very rare, issued before the famous anchor had been adopted. This copy measures six and a quarter by three and seven-eighths inches, and is immaculate throughout. It is printed in the famous Aldine or Italic type, which was first used in the Virgil, one year earlier. The type is said to have been cut by Francesco da Bologna, better known as Francia.

AINSWORTH (WILLIAM HARRISON).—Wind-sor Castle.

See Cruikshank Illustrations.

ALLIBONE (S. A.).—Critical Dictionary of English Literature and British and American Authors, Living and Deceased, from the Earliest Accounts to the Latter Half of the XIX Century.

ARNOLD (MATTHEW).—Alaric at Rome, A Prize Poem. Recited in Rugby School. June
XII, MDCCCXL. Rugby: Combe and Crossley, MDCCCXL.

8vo, original pink wrappers, uncut.

The First Edition of Arnold's first poem, and one of the rarest of nineteenth century books, of which but few copies are known. Only one other copy has previously appeared in the auction rooms of this country. Twelve years ago it was quite unknown. Six copies in all have been brought to light.

Arnold was but eighteen years of age when he won the scholarship at Rugby with this poem.

CATALOGUE OF THE LIBRARY OF

BEAUMONT (FRANCIS) AND FLETCHER (JOHN).—Comedies / and / Tragedies / Written by Francis Beavmont And Iohn Fletcher, Gentlemen. / Never printed before, / And now published by the Authours / Originall Copies. / Si quid habent veri Vatum praefagia, vivam. /

London, / Printed for Humphrey Robinfon, at the three Pidgeons, and for / Humphrey Mofeley at the Princes Armes in St. Pauls / Churchyard. 1647.

Folio, full crushed levant morocco, gilt edges, by Rivière.

The First Edition with portrait by William Marshall. This is the first collected edition, and the volume does not contain the "Wild Goose Chase," which was sometimes included in the work. There is a brilliant impression of the portrait of Fletcher engraved by Marshall, in the very first state of the plate; the name of Sir John Birkenhead being printed large beneath the nine lines of verse written by him, and the words "vates duplex" in small letters.

This edition appears to have been due to the enterprise of Moseley, and nothing which throws light upon the history of printing at this time is more interesting than the Postscript added at the end of the Commendatory Verses. The volume is dedicated to the Earl of Pembroke, to whom also was dedicated the First Folio Edition of Shakespeare: and in the dedication to the present volume is an interesting mention of this incident in which the great bard is termed "Sweet Swan of Avon Shakespeare."

BECKFORD (WILLIAM).—An Arabian Tale. (Vathek.) From an Unpublished Manuscript:

CHARLES TEMPLETON CROCKER

With Notes Critical and Explanatory. Printed for J. Johnson, in St. Paul's Church-Yard, and Entered at the Stationer's Hall. 1786.

8vo, brown boards, with leather back and ends, yellow edges.

The First Edition. Large Paper, and so excessively rare, that the Beckford Library (when dispersed) only contained a small paper copy.

This was Robert Southey's copy, with his bookplate. In his handwriting, on the inside cover, is written "Robert Southey. Jany. 3, 1811." On the title-page he has written "by W. Beckford of Fonthill," also "by Mr. Henley." Beckford wrote this book in French, at one sitting, when only twenty-two years old.

BEHN (APHRA).—The Plays, Histories, and Novels, of the Ingenious Mrs. Aphra Behn. With Life and Memoirs. Complete in six volumes. London, John Pearson. 1871.

4to, full blue morocco, gilt on the rough.

This is one of the rarest of the early issues of Edward the Sixth's First Prayer Book. The one published by Whitchurch, March 7th, is the first. The most marked dissimilarity in the volumes issued by the London printers lies in the special woodcut title-pages used by each. Grafton's beautiful border (repeated for "A Table" and "Kalender") shows, above a Doric frieze supported by pilasters, a view of the Council Chamber with King Edward, surrounded by his advisors, and at the bottom the printers' punning mark, on a shield held by two angels. It is as fine an example of work as anything of the period. Grafton afterwards used the same border for his edition of "A Concordance of the Bible," printed in 1550.

The unnumbered leaf at the end of the book contains the royal order concerning the price of the book.

Only a few of the side margins are restored.

It is evident that the Litany was not intended to form part of this book, as the previous page ends with "Finis," and it is not mentioned in the Table of Contents on verso of the title-page.

BURNS (ROBERT).—Poems, / Chiefly in the / Scottish Dialect, / By Robert Burns. / [Four lines of verse.] / Kilmarnock: / Printed by John Wilson. / M,DCC,LXXXVI.

8vo, full crushed levant morocco, gilt.

The First Edition, and a fine tall copy. With two lines in Burns' autograph of "The Twa Dogs," from the original manuscript, inlaid to size. This small portion originally hung framed in the Jean Armour Cottage, and was procured from Col. William N. Burns, the poet's son. It passed into the hands of one of Jean Armour's relations and was purchased at the sale of the Burns and Armour relics in Glasgow, 1908.

BURNS (ROBERT).—Poems, / Chiefly in the / Scottish Dialect. / By / Robert Burns. / Edinburgh: / Printed for the Author, / and sold by William Creech. / M,DCC,LXXXVII.

8vo, original calf, uncut.

The first issue of the first Edinburgh edition. Portrait by Beugo after A. Nasmyth (the first portrait made of Burns). Lacks the half title.

This was published the year after the Kilmarnock edition, contains twenty-seven pieces printed for the first time, and is dedicated "To the Noblemen and Gentlemen of the Caledonian Hunt." This is the rare first issue (two were published in the same year in Edinburgh) and contains all the needed "points." On page xxxvii, the Duke of Roxburgh's name is printed "Boxburgh," and on page xlvi is the addenda to the subscription list. These were altered in the later issue, the addenda was incorporated in the list, and "Boxburgh" was correctly spelled "Roxburgh." Only a few copies of the genuine first issue of this edition were printed. On page 263, the word "stinking" is mis-spelled "skinking."

This copy is particularly interesting as having belonged to Robert Ainslie, and was presented to him by Burns. On the fly-leaf is Ainslie's signature, and throughout the book Burns has filled in the names where asterisks appear in the printed text. There are about forty of these notations in the handwriting of the poet.

CHARLES TEMPLETON CROCKER

At the heading of "Death and Doctor Hornbrook. A True Story," Burns has written "John Wilson schoolmaster, Tarbolton."

An autograph note from Burns to Ainslie has been inserted in this copy. It has the address on the outside of the sheet "Mr. Robt Ainslie. Writer, Care of Mr. Ainslie, Bookseller, Newtown, Edin. To be forwarded wherever he is." The note has neither beginning nor end, and it is probably the kind Burns would dash off when there seemed to be little to write about. It reads: "I am not entirely sure of my farm's doing well—I hope for the best: but I have my Exche Commission in my pocket: I don't care three skips of a cur-dig for the up-an-down gambols of Fortune. I am vexed at your seeming dispiritedness. I am afraid somewhat is going cross with you. The devil sometimes half whispers me, that you are wearing of an idle barren correspondence."

Compiled from his Papers and Majesty's Ships, Sent upon an Expedition to the Materials, by Richard Walter, M.A., Chaplain of his Majesty's Ship, the Centurion, in that Expedition. With a Map, shewing the Track of the Centurion round the World.

London: Printed for the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge; sold at the depository, Great Queen-Street, Lincoln's-Inn-Fields, and 4, Royal Exchange; and by all booksellers. 1848.

Svo, original cloth, uncut.

Frontispiece, folding map, and illustrations.

This compilation of Richard Walter has long occupied a distinguished position as a masterpiece of descriptive travel. The first edition was published in 1748, in quarto, and its textual differences with the later quartos are slight. The forty-two maps and plates should accompany all.

There is an abridgment issued in octavo (as this copy), also frequently reprinted, and translations were made into French, German and other languages. Anson's voyage appears to have been the most popular book of adventure in the eighteenth century. It contains an interesting account of the Island of Juan Fernandez.

These mining prospectuses with the invaluable maps are of the greatest historical importance. All of them are excessively scarce.

BANCROFT (HUBERT HOWE).—Bancroft's Map of California, Nevada, Utah, and Arizona. San Francisco, 1864.

Large folio, in 18mo cloth folder.

The map is coloured.

BARTLETT (JOHN RUSSELL).—Personal Narrative of Explorations and Incidents in Texas, New Mexico, California, Sonora, and Chihuahua, connected with the United States Boundary Commission, during the years, 1850, '51, '52, and '53. Maps, full-page plates, and text illustrations.

New York: D. Appleton & Company, 346 & 348 Broadway, 1854.

8vo, two volumes, original cloth.

The author was United States Commissioner on the Mexican Boundary Survey, in 1850 to 1853, and has here recorded an astonishing mass of valuable details of the Indians of the Mexican border. The illustrations of antiquities, etc., are highly important. The description of California will be found in Vol. II, pp. 1-107. Mr. Bartlett's work is the best of the period.

London: Chapman and Hall, 193 Piccadilly, 1869.

8vo, two volumes, three-quarters red morocco.
Contains tinted plates, illustrations and a map.
Relates to Kansas, Arizona, New Mexico, and California, giving full and interesting accounts of the native people inhabiting those states, and descriptions of life on the plains.

BENJAMIN (J. P.).—The United States vs. Andres Castillero, on Cross Appeal. Claim for the Mine and Lands of New Almaden. Argument of Hon. J. P. Benjamin Delivered on the 24th, 25th and 26th of October, and 5th of November, 1860, in reply to the Government's Special Counsel. Reported by Sumner & Cutter.

San Francisco: Commercial Steam Book and Job Printing Establishment, 1860.

Svo, three-quarters morocco.

Castillero came into possession of the New Almaden quicksilver mine in 1845, by the method of denouncement. By this Mexican law or custom, any person or company could present themselves to the nearest authorities and denounce an unworked mine, and, after certain formalities, be put in possession of all or part of it, according to its extent; the new owner being obliged to work his new possession, or a fresh claimant could denounce against him. In all cases, the Government claimed a certain proportion of the products. In this case, the Hon. J. P. Benjamin argued that the United States acting as the assistant of a band of unscrupulous speculators, had no right to the mine, as Castillero had acquired it under this law of denouncement prior to the ceding of California by Mexico to the United States in 1848.

BENTON (JOSEPH A.).—The California Pilgrim. A Series of Lectures.

Sacramento: Solomon Alter, publisher. Marvin & Hitchcock, San Francisco, 1853.

12mo, original cloth.

Written in the form of an allegory, this work gives many details of California life. The author, a clergyman, was the founder of the Congregational Church in California, having arrived in 1840. The plates, six in number, are apparently of the earlier work of Charles Nahl, afterwards famous.

BEVERLY JOINT STOCK SAN FRANCISCO COMPANY. Constitution and By-Laws. Salem: Printed at the Register Press, 1849.

12mo, eight pages, marble paper covers.

BORTHWICK (J. D.).—Three Years in California.

Edinburgh and London: William Blackwood and Sons, 1857.

8vo, original cloth, uncut.

With eight tinted lithographs.

A rare and most interesting work on early California. The tinted plates show two Gambling Saloons in 1851, a Chinese Mining Camp, the First Flume on the Yuba, a Bear and Bull Fight, a Ball in the Mines, and other characteristic scenes.

Borthwick spent some time in 1851 as an actual miner at Weaver Creek. His book presents a faithful and graphic picture of the early days.

BROOKS (J. TYRWHITT).—Four Months Among the Gold-finders in California; being the Diary of an Expedition from San Francisco to the Gold Districts.

London: David Bogue, Fleet Street, 1859.

8vo, original red cloth.

The author was an English physician, and his diary begins at Monterey. It is one of the first works to give the results of actual experience in working in the newly discovered gold region. (First Edition, 1849.) Brooks' party of five accumulated more than one hundred pounds of gold, but unfortunately they were relieved of the greater part of it by highwaymen.

BROWNE (J. Ross).—Report of the Debates in the Convention of California, on the Formation of the State Constitution, in September and October, 1849.

Washington: Printed by John T. Powers, 1850.

8vo, cloth.

An exhaustive account of the acts and proceedings of this most remarkable assembly. Browne was the only shorthand reporter in California, and for this work he received ten thousand dollars. An edition in Spanish was printed in 1851.

BROWNE (J. Ross).—Resources of the Pacific Slope. A Statistical and Descriptive Summary of the Mines and Minerals, Climate, Topography, Agriculture, Commerce, Manufactories, and Miscellaneous Productions, of the States and Territories West of the Rocky Mountains. With a Sketch of the Settlement and Exploration of Lower California.

New York: D. Appleton & Company, 1869.

8vo.

Issued generally as a government document. The sketch of Lower California was written by Alexander S. Taylor. Pages 598-604 contain a bibliography of Alaska by the same author. Some copies bear the imprint of H. H. Bancroft, San Francisco.

BRYANT (EDWIN).—What I Saw in California; Being the Journal of a Tour, by the Emigrant Route and South Pass of the Rocky Mountains, across the Continent of North America, the Great Desert Basin, and through California in the years 1846-1847.

New York: D. Appleton & Company, 1848.

12mo, cloth.

The Second Edition. An excellent authority both on the overland journey and events in California. The author was the Alcalde at San Francisco, and this work went through many editions, one English, two French in 1848 and 1849. There was also an edition, now very rare, printed with the addition of Wierbicki's "California As It Is," and issued at Launceetown, Tasmania, in 1850. Beginning with the third, the American edition was slightly enlarged and a map added. The facts in reference to the military and naval operations in California did not come under the author's personal observation, but are derived from authentic sources. This is one of the earliest works to draw attention to the California gold deposits.

BRYANT (EDWIN).—What I Saw in California; Being the Journal of a Tour, by the Emigrant Route and South Pass of the Rocky Mountains, across the Continent of North America, the Great Desert Basin, and through California in the years 1846-1847.

8vo, cloth.

Plates and map.

This anonymous work is considerably more complete than many of the contemporary accounts, both English and American. A perfect copy should contain an engraved title, three plates, and a map, all of which are finely colored by hand. The plates represent views in the Sacramento Valley, and scenes of travel to the gold mines, and gold washing.

8vo.

Seven folding maps.

This important volume contains the official correspondence and documents relating to California, 1847-1849, and is the most extensive source of authorities covering that period. The conduct of the Mexican War in California; the formation of the military provisional government; the transition from territory to state; the constitution; land titles, and many phases of history from an official point of view form the contents. The maps are of the military fortifications of Fort Hill, Monterey; the Presidio, San Francisco; Lieutenant Derby's map of the route of General Riley through the mining districts in July and August, 1849; Frémont's surveys of California; Beale's expedition against the Indians; and two maps of Lower California. The importance of this Message was so great that Congress had printed ten thousand extra copies.

CHARLES TEMPLETON CROCKER

Folding plan.

Translated from the French. This celestial phenomenon was visible only on the coast of California. Spain knew of the expedition and fearing the possible results hastened to dispatch Portola upon his mission of occupation and colonization of Upper California. The Abbé Chappe died while in Lower California, and was there interred. The plan of Mexico City is very rare.

CLAVIJERO (FRANCISCO SAVERIO).—Historia de la Antigua ó Baja California. Obra postuma del Padre Francisco Javier Clavijero, de la Compañía de Jesus. Traducido del Italiano por el presbitero Don Nicolas Garcia de San Vicente. Mejico: Imprenta de Juan R. Navarro, editor, 1852. [With] Relacion historica de la vida del venerable Padre Fray Junipero Serra. Mejico: Imprenta de Juan de Navarro, editor, 1852.

Folio, cloth.

The work of Clavijero occupies pages 1-123. It is the only translation that has thus far appeared. The "Vida de Serra" is included, pages 125-252. This is the well-known work of Padre Francisco Palou, and is here reprinted without change from the original edition of Mexico, 1787. A complete index accompanies both of the works. These two works were issued with the general title: "Biblioteca nacional y extranjera. Seccion primera. Historia Antigua y Moderna Mejicana."

CLEAVELAND (E. L.).—Hasting to be Rich. A Sermon, Occasioned by the Present Excitement respecting the Gold of California, Preached in the Cities of New Haven and Bridgeport, Jan. and Feb. 1849. New Haven [1849].

COKE (HENRY JOHN).—A Ride over the Rocky Mountains to Oregon and California. With a Glance at some of the Tropical Islands, including the West Indies and the Sandwich Isles. By the Hon. Henry J. Coke.

London: Richard Bentley, New Burlington Street, 1852.

8vo, half morocco.

Coke was a British globe-trotter, and his excessive English spirit is thoroughly exhibited in every chapter of this book. His adventures were many and frequently desperate. His ability to describe easily the sights and sensations of his journey has resulted in a most entertaining book.

CONSTITUTION.—Constitution and By-Laws of the New England and California Trading and Mining Association. Together with the Names of the Officers and Members, the Order of Exercises at the Tremont Temple, and the Address by Rev. Edward Beecher. Boston, 1849.

8vo, original paper wrappers.

This company was formed in 1848 to fit out a ship for a mining expedition to California. The only copy known.

CONSTITUTION.—Constitution of the State of California. San Francisco: Printed at the office of the Alta California, 1849.

8vo, stitched, pp. 16.

CORTÈS (FERNANDO).—Historia de Nueva Espana, escrita por su Esclarecido Conquistador Hernan Cortès, aumentada con otros Documentos, y Notas por el Illustrissimo Señor Don Francisco Antonio Lorenzano, Arzobispo de Mexico.

Mexico, en la Imprenta del Superior Gobierno, 1770.

Folio, old vellum.

With frontispiece, vignette, folding plate of the Temple, map and thirty-three plates containing hundreds of figures.

At page 328 occurs the rare first map of California engraved in America. According to its inscription, it was originally drawn by the Pilot Domingo del Castillo, in the City of Mexico in 1541. It was engraved in Mexico for the first time by Navarro. The thirty-one copper-plates of Mexican hieroglyphics were used by Lord Kingsborough in his great work on Mexican Antiquities published in 1831.

COULTER (JOHN).—Adventures on the Western Coast of South America and the Interior of California, Including a Narrative of Incidents at the Kingsmill Islands, New Ireland, New Britain and New Guinea, etc. In two volumes.

London: Longman, Brown, Green and Longman, Paternoster Row. 1847.

12mo, two volumes.

Coulter has not yet been accepted in simple faith. In fact his narrative has been greatly discredited and adjudged as unreliable. His descriptions of California are found in Vol. II, pages 127-188.

DRURY (P. SHELDEN).—The Startling and Thrilling Narrative of the Dark and Terrible Deeds of Henry Madison, and his Associate and Accomplice, Miss Ellen Stevens, Who was Executed by the Vigilance Committee of San Francisco, on the 20th September last. Edited by Rev. P. Shelden Drury.

Cincinnati: Published by Barclay & Co. [1857].

8vo.

An extremely lurid work, with suitable illustrations. At the time of her death Ellen Stevens had assumed the name of Adeline Myers. That she was executed by the Vigilance Committee of San Francisco is of course pure fiction.

DWINELLE (JOHN W.).—The Colonial History of the City of San Francisco, Being a Narrative Argument in the Circuit Court of the United States for the State of California, for Four Square Leagues Claimed by that City and Confirmed to it by that Court. Fourth Edition.

San Francisco: Printed by Towne & Bacon, book and job printers, 1867.

8vo, calf.

Three plates with map.

Presentation copy inscribed "With the regards of John W. Dwinelle," written on fly-leaf. Opposite xlv is a slip of addenda, and also opposite page 364.

Filled with references to the early missions, particularly with special regard to their lands, besides treating of the Neophyte and the Indian tribes of that locality. The work contains a large number of documents, most of which are now either inaccessible or destroyed. The views of the harbor and mission of San Francisco are reproduced from Forbes' "History of California." The fourth edition is identical in all particulars with the first.

ELDREDGE (ZOETH SKINNER).—The Beginnings of San Francisco from the Expedition of Anza, 1774, to the City Charter of April 15, 1850. With Biographical and Other Notes.

San Francisco: Zoeth S. Eldredge, 1912.

8vo, two volumes, cloth.

EMORY (WILLIAM HELMSLEY). [30th Congress, 1st Session, Ex. doc. no. 7.] Notes of a Military Reconnoissance from Fort Leavenworth, in Missouri, to San Diego, in California, including Part of the Arkansas, Del Norte, and Gila Regions. By Lieut. Col. W. H. Emory. Made in 1846-7, with the Advance Guard of the "Army of the West."

Washington: Wendell and Van Benthuysen, Printers, 1848.

8vo, original cloth, uncut.

With plates and maps.

This is the Senate and House edition. Other editions contain six hundred and fourteen pages (this only four hundred and sixteen), and reports by Abert, Cooke and Johnston. As in the Frémont narrative, this edition of Emory corresponds in text, maps, and subjects of plates, but the latter differ considerably in appearance and engraving. The work contains folding maps and a large number of plates and views, ethnology and natural history.

ENGELHARDT (ZEPHYRIN).—The Missions and Missionaries of California: Vol. I, Lower California. Superiorum permissu. San Francisco, Cal., The James H. Barry Company, 1908.—Vol. II. Upper California. FAXES (PEDRO).—Original Manuscript. Noticia del Estado que guardan las Misiones de Monterey y California. N. p., 1775.

4to, seventy-three pages, paper covers.

The writer calls it a Continuation and Supplement of the two works: "Extracto de Noticias del Puerto de Monterrey," August 16th, 1770, and the "Diario Historico de los Viajes de Mar y Tierra hecha al Norte de la California," October 24th, 1770. He wrote it by order of the Viceroy Bucareli and finished it in Mexico City in November, 1775.

Pedro de Faxe was Captain of Infantry of the Free Volunteers of Catalonia and Military Commandant of the posts in California for some years.

The manuscript is written in a beautiful clear hand, and while it is not precisely a diary, is devoted to his marches from San Diego to San Francisco and back to Monterey (where he was finally stationed) and treats of the country passed through, the Indians, their customs, language, etc., with much geography and natural history of California.

FORBES (ALEXANDER).—California: A History of Upper and Lower California from their first Discovery to the Present Time, comprising an Account of the Climate, Soil, Natural Productions, Agriculture, Commerce, etc. A full view of the Missionary Establishments and Condition of the Free and Domesticated Indians. With an Appendix relating to Steam Navigation in the Pacific. Illustrated with a new map, plans of harbours, and numerous engravings. By Alexander Forbes, Esq. London: Smith, Elder & Co., Cornhill, 1839.

8vo.

The author was one of the first English explorers and discovered the quicksilver mines. This is the first English book to relate exclusively to California. The changes of time and subsequent history have not disturbed the value of this work, for it is still to be considered as one of the most important on the subject. Among the plates are early views of Monterey; Bay of San Francisco; Santa Barbara; San Carlos; Indians; and Californians throwing the lasso, the last being copies from Beechey's "Voyage." The two views of San Francisco have been frequently reproduced, notably in Dwinelle.

FRIGNET (ERNEST).—La Californie. Histoire de Progrès de l'un des États-Unis d'Amerique et des institutions qui font sa prospérité. Deuxième édition.

Paris: Schlesinger Frères, Libraires-éditeurs, 1867.

8vo, three-quarters morocco, gilt top, uncut.

The Second Edition, with map. Presentation copy, with author's inscription on half-title.

Of the numerous works on California, this is one of the best and most complete of that period. Many authorities have been consulted and carefully cited.

FROST (JOHN).—History of the State of California, from the Period of the Conquest by Spain to her Occupation by the United States of America. Containing an Account of the Discovery of the Immense Gold Mines and Placers. . . . With numerous illustrations.

Auburn: Derby & Miller. Buffalo: Derby, Orton & Mulligan. 1853.

8vo, cloth.

Although of no historical depth, this work was popular and went through numerous editions, the earliest of which was that of 1850. The illustrations of life and scenery are very crude. The frontispiece is hand-coloured.

CATALOGUE OF THE LIBRARY OF

FROWD (J. G. PLAYER).—Six Months in California.

London: Longmans, Green and Co., 1872.

HEAP (GWINN HARRIS).—Central Route to the Pacific; from the Valley of the Mississippi to California, Journal of the Expedition of E. F. Beale, Superintendent of Indian Affairs in California; and Gwinn H. Heap, from Missouri to California in 1853.

Philadelphia: Lippincott, Grambo and Co. London: Trübner and Co., 1854.

8vo, cloth.

Thirteen tinted lithographs.

Presentation copy inscribed as follows: "To L. Ferrier, Esqre. with the kind regards of G. H. H. Philadelphia, April 24, 1854."

This copy contains one of the few large folding maps. The object of this expedition was to select lands more suitable for

CHARLES TEMPLETON CROCKER

Indian reservations, and to examine the territories of New Mexico and Utah, where the frontiers and those of California lie contiguous, and to ascertain whether lands existed there to which California Indians might, with advantage, be removed.

Beale was deputed by the United States Government to accomplish this. The author was one of Beale's party which started from Westport, Missouri, and proceeded to Fort Atkinson on the Arkansas, thence to Fort Massachusetts in New Mexico, from that place to the Mormon settlements near Little Salt Lake, and finally into California.

HEAP (GWINN HARRIS).—Central Route to the Pacific, etc.

8vo, three-quarters morocco.

Another copy.

HITTELL (JOHN SHIRTZER).—The Resources of California: comprising Agriculture, Mining, Geography, Climate, Commerce, &c., and the past and future development of the State. Fifth edition, with an appendix on Oregon, Nevada, and Washington Territory.

San Francisco: A. Roman and Company. New York: 27 Howard Street. 1869.

8vo.

The first edition was published in 1863.

HITTELL (JOHN SHIRTZER).—A History of the City of San Francisco, and incidentally of the State of California.

San Francisco: A. L. Bancroft & Company, 1878.

8vo, cloth.

The most reliable and standard authority that has yet appeared upon the period it includes. It was written in commemoration of the centennial of the United States, 1876.

HITTELL (THEODORE HENRY).—History of California.

San Francisco: Pacific Press Publishing House and Occidental Publishing Co., 1885.

8vo.

Vol. I only, the complete work being in four volumes.

This is the best history of California within reasonable proportions. The author's accuracy is well known. The work has been severely criticised for some reflections upon the missionaries.

HITTELL (THEODORE HENRY).—The Adventures of James Capen Adams, Mountaineer and Grizzly Bear Hunter of California. Illustrated.

London: T. Werner Laurie. Clifford's Inn. As reprinted in 1910.

12mo, cloth.

The first edition was printed in 1861, and was probably the most popular work of its time issued in California. The illustrations, twelve in number, are by Charles Nahl, among which is one of the famous grizzly, "Samson."

HOLINSKI (ALEXANDRE JEAN JOACHIM).—La Californie et les routes interocéaniques. Deuxième édition.

Bruxelles: A. Labroue et compagnie, imprimeurs, 1855.

12mo, three-quarters crushed levant morocco.

Pages 101 to 212 relate to California. According to his own statement, the author was an American citizen. He has treated his subject with ability.

HORN (HOSEA B.).—Horn's Overland Guide, from the United States Indian Subagency, Council Bluffs, on the Missouri River, to the City of Sacramento, in California; containing a Table of Distances (etc., etc.). With a Complete and Accurate Map.

New York: Published by J. H. Colton, 1852.

16mo, cloth.

A small work, highly useful in its time. It is in itinerary form, and of interest, as showing how minutely observations had been made at almost every mile of the tedious and frequently dangerous route.

HOUGHTON (ELIZA P. DONNER).—The Expedition of the Donner Party and its Tragic Fate. Illustrated.

Chicago: A. C. McClurg & Co., 1911.

virtual conquest of California, in June, 1846, by the Bear Flag Party," as given by its leader, the late Hon. William Brown Ide.

Published for the subscribers. [Claremont, N. H.: 1880.]

16mo.

Presentation copy. William B. Ide, the leader of the Bear Flag movement at Sonoma, has received criticisms from many sources, but according to Hubert Howe Bancroft, he was a worthy and honest man. His death occurred in California in 1852.

This work was set in type by Simeon Ide when in his eighty-sixth year, and having been prepared amid difficulties, only a small number of copies were issued, and the work is, therefore, scarce.

IDE (WILLIAM BROWN).—[Scraps of California History never before Published.] Who Conquered California? Read the Following Pages and Then You will Know; for They Contain the Most Authentic and the Most Reliable History of the Conquest of California, in June, 1846, by the "Bear Flag Party," ever before published. Written by its organizer and leader, the late Hon. William Brown Ide.

description of the incidents of the adventure, and a valuable history of this immense territory from personal observation.

This work is excessively rare, there being recorded no sale of a single copy. Cowan, the only bibliographer mentioning it, says there are only five copies known.

LETTS (JOHN M.).—California Illustrated; including a description of the Panama and Nicaragua Routes. By a returned Californian.

New York: William Holdredge, publisher, 1852.

8vo.

Contains forty-eight plates.

Reprinted with the following title, "A pictorial view of California; including a description of the Panama and Nicaragua routes, with information and advice interesting to all, particularly those who intend to visit the gold regions. By a returned Californian. New York: Published by Henry Bill, 1853." The contents of these two editions are identical. There was evidently a deficiency in the supply of engravings prepared, for the number varies greatly. No list accompanies the work, but copies of each of the editions should possess forty-eight plates.

LETTS (JOHN M.).—California Illustrated.

Another copy, with but thirty-seven plates.

LÉVY (DANIEL).—Les Français en Californie. Cet ouvrage se vend au profit de la bibliothèque de la Ligue nationale française de San Francisco.

San Francisco: Grégoire, Tauzy et cie, libraires éditeurs, 6 rue Post, 1884.

8vo.

The author was one of the most learned members of the French colony in San Francisco, and this work is an authority of permanent value.

LOCKMAN (JOHN).—Travels of the Jesuits into various parts of the world: Particularly China and the East Indies. Intermixed with an account of the Manners, Gouvernement, Civil and Religious Ceremonies, Natural History, and Curiosities, of the several Nations visited by those Fathers. Translated from the celebrated Lettres edifiantes & curieuses écrites de Missions étrangères, par les Missionnaires de la Compagnie de Jesus. A Work so entertaining and curious, that it has already been translated into most of the European Languages. In Two Volumes. By Mr. Lockman.

8vo, two volumes.

The Californian references are "Dedication to the Jesuits of France," "State of the Missions of California," "Picolo: Descent of the Spaniards on the Isle of California, 1683." A copy of the Kino map of California accompanies this work. Cowan mentions an edition of 1743, presumably the first.

The English edition is greatly superior to this, the New York edition, published in the same year. With many engravings depicting California life and scenes, among the most interesting prints of that period. The English edition contains eight coloured lithographs. This is a scarce and interesting work on Californian life during the gold fever days.

McGOWAN (EDWARD).—Narrative of Edward McGowan. Including a Full Account of the Author's Adventures and Perils while Persecuted by the San Francisco Vigilance Committee of 1856.

San Francisco: Published by the Author, 1857.

12mo, half calf.

Portrait and illustrations.

Edward McGowan, justice, was accused of being an accomplice of James P. Casey in the murder of James King of William, and to escape the Vigilance Committee he absconded. After unusual vicissitudes, he returned and established a weekly paper called the "Ubiquitous," in which at length and with great freedom he expressed his opinions of the committee and its actions. The cover-title contains a portrait of Judge McGowan not elsewhere in the work, and without which it is incomplete.

For the Year commencing January 1st, 1856, embracing a General Directory of the Citizens of Tuolumne, and Portions of Calaveras, Stanislaus and San Joaquin Counties. Together with the Mining Laws of Each District, a Description of the Different Camps, and other Interesting Statistical Matter. By Heckendorn & Wilson.

Columbia: Printed at the Clipper Office, 1856.

8vo, printed wrappers (stamp on title and wrappers).

Woodcut view of the town of Columbia.

An item of excessive rarity, one of but two copies known. As a Directory exceeded only in importance and rarity by that of Bogardus. Not mentioned in Cowan's Bibliography of California. Contains a view of Columbia, once a thriving town of five thousand population, and now but a ghost city of a few mountaineers. Contains also a list of the various mining camps of Tuolumne County, with the individual mining laws, the names and occupations and place of residence of the inhabitants.

MÖLLHAUSEN (BALDWIN).—Diary of a Journey from the Mississippi to the Coasts of the Pacific with a United States Government Expedition. With an Introduction by Alexander von Humboldt and illustrations in chromo-lithography.

London: Longman & Co., 1858.

8vo, two volumes.

This expedition started from Fort Smith in Arkansas and traversed Indian territory and New Mexico, arriving on the Pacific Coast at the seaport of San Pedro, to the north of the Californian mission of San Diego. The narration of the author's personal examination of the Indian life and aboriginal antiquities occupies a large portion of these volumes. The plates are principally illustrative of such phases of the one, and remains of the other, as the author deemed most worthy of record. Möllhausen was topographical draughtsman and naturalist to the expedition.

Very rare. The first number of an early Californian college paper.

PALOU' (FRANCISCO).—Relacion historica de la vida y apostolicas Tareas del Venerable Padre Fray Junipero Serra, y de las misiones que fundó en la California septentrional, y nuevos establecimientos de Monterey. Escrita por el R. P. L. Fr. Francisco Palou', guardian actual del venerable fundador: dirigida a su santa provincia de la regular observancia de Nro. S. P. S. Francisco de la isla de Mallorca. A expensas de Don Miguel Gonzalez Calderon, sindico de dicho apostolico colegio.

Impresa en México, en la imprenta de Don

Felipe de Zuñiga y Ontiveros, calle del Espíritu Santo, año de 1787.

4to, parchment covers with thong ties.

With plate and folding map.

The most famous and the most extensive of the early works that relate to Upper California. The plate, a symbolical portrait of Serra, typifies his apostolic labors, and is to be found facing page one. The folding map, placed at the end of the work, represents Old and New California, and contains the geographical names as known and the missions as they existed, then. It was engraved by Diego Froncoso, Mexico, 1787. Two varieties of the map exist, both of which were printed from the same plate. In the earlier variety, the space shown as the Pacific Ocean is blank, and in the later copies (as on this one) the space is occupied by the words "Mar Pacifico," engraved in large characters.

Miguel Jose Serra, a native of Petra, on the island of Mallorca, was born November 24th, 1713. He took the Franciscan habit in 1730, assuming the name of Junipero, and until 1749, devoted his life in preparation for missionary work. He reached Mexico, December 6th of that year, and began immediately the arduous spiritual work that ended only with his death. His early work in Mexico was for a time in the missionary field of the Sierra Gorda, and later in the college of San Fernando. In 1769, he arrived at San Diego in Alta California, and at that place, on July 16th, he founded the first Californian mission. From this time he was indefatigable, founding many missions, and traveling many miles, always on foot. His end came on August 28th, 1784, at San Carlos, the beloved mission that he founded June 3d, 1770.

STATUTE LAWS OF CALIFORNIA.—The Statutes of California, Passed at the First Session of the Legislature. Begun the 15th Day of December, 1849, and ended the 22nd Day of April, 1850, at the City of Pueblo De San Jose. With an Appendix and Index.

San Jose: I. Winchester, State Printer, 1850.

4to, old sheep.

The extremely rare First Statutes of California. "The first legislature of the State of California consisted of sixteen senators and thirty-six assemblymen. The rainy season which had set in on the 28th of October, 1849, was at its height by the middle of December, and did not close until the 22nd of March, during which period thirty-six inches of water fell upon the thirsty earth. The roads were rendered nearly impassable and the means of travel, otherwise than on horseback, being limited, it was with difficulty that the members made their way to San Jose from their different districts, no quorum being present on the first and second days. The legislative building furnished was an unfinished box, sixty feet long and forty feet wide, two stories in height, having a piazza in front. The upper story, devoted to the use of the assembly, was simply one large room, approached by a flight of stairs from the senate-chamber, a hall forty by twenty feet on the ground floor, the remainder of the space being occupied by the rooms of the secretary of state, and various committees. For the first few weeks, owing to the incompleteness of the hall, the senators held their meetings in the house of Isaac Branham, on the southwest corner of the plaza." Sabin mentions the book, but knows of no copy.

With autograph of Th. W. Sutherland, District Attorney of California.

Stockton was provisional governor of California from July, 1846, to January, 1847, and about half of the work is of this period.

STOCKTON (ROBERT FIELD).—Original Letter Book containing Orders, Dispatches, Proclamations, Letters, etc., sent between June 16th, 1846, and June 26th, 1847, covering the entire period of Commodore Stockton's seizure and government of California. Besides copies of his own letters, this book contains copies of letters addressed to him, with a few original autograph letters of other writers.

Folio, full sheep.

This letter book contains copies of letters and orders sent by Commodore Stockton during the tumultuous period of his occupation and government of California, and throws much light on the history of the time. Many of the letters are addressed to Major John C. Frémont, Military Commander of the Territory of California; George Baneroft, Secretary of the Navy; James Buchanan, Secretary of State; Commodore S. F. Dupont; General José Castro; General S. W. Kearny; James K. Polk, President of the United States, and others.

There are also autograph letters from Archibald H. Gillespie, R. Semple, editor of "The Californian," and Col. William H. Russell.

En Madrid: En la imprenta de la viuda de Manuel Fernandez, y del supremo consejo de la Inquisicion. Año de M.D.CCLVII.

4to, three volumes, full calf.

With four folding maps.

George Bancroft's copy, with his bookplate.

The first map of California is surrounded by a border of ten vignettes, showing inhabitants and animals of the country, and the martyrdoms of Padres Carranco and Tamaral. The second is a map of the lands adjacent to the upper part of the Gulf of California, 1747, after the Jesuit missionary, Cinsag. The third is of the South Sea or Pacific Ocean between the Equator and 39° 30' north latitude. This has been copied from Anson, by Joseph Gonzales. The fourth is a general map of the north Pacific Ocean, showing Asia and America, and engraved by Manuel Rodriguez, 1756.

This work is considered the foundation of a library of Californiana. The maps have historical value and represent surveys made down to 1754, although the manuscript was written in 1739. The text was supplemented by fresh information, sent home from the missions for that purpose, so that the matter is brought fully down to date of publication. The work was edited by Padre Andres Marcos Burriel, although his name does not appear. He was an editor of intelligence and ability, and one of the three volumes is devoted to geography and explorations of the far north.

Other than Cabrera, Burriel was the first writer whose sound sense allowed him to reject the apocryphal voyages as unworthy of credit, to restrict northern geography to actual discoveries, and to correctly define in print the peninsula and the regions of the Colorado and Gila Rivers as far as known. This work of Venegas has been translated into English, Dutch, French and German. The English translation has been a popular edition, but, it is stated, is faulty and a considerable portion has been omitted.

Regium est. / [London], MDCXLVIII.

*16mo, full dark green crushed levant morocco,

The exceedingly rare First Edition of the King's Book, having the faulty pagination in signature G (91, 82, 83, 94, 95, 86, 87, 98, 99, 90, 91, 102, 103, 94, 95, 109), and title (without printer's name), of which only seven copies were known to Edward Almack in his bibliography. This copy contains the excessively rare leaf of errata. It lacks the leaf preceding the title-page with verses signed "F. N. G.," and lacks at the end the "Perfect Copie of Private Prayers used by His Majestie in the Time of his Sufferings," which are very often missing. In one of the Hoe copies the "Apophthegmata" has a separate title-page with the imprint "Printed by William Du-gard for Francis Eglesfield."

The First Edition appeared almost before the King's body was cold. Its authority was disputed at the time, some believing it to be the work of Bishop Gauden. The book displays Charles First's piety and sets forth an explanation of his policy.

À Paris: Chez Migneret, Imprimeur, Rue Jacob, No. 1186, et à l'Ancienne Libraire de Dupont, Rue de la Loi, No. 288. An. IX. (1801).

18mo, full crushed levant morocco, gilt on the rough, by Hardy-Mennil.

The First Edition, with bookplate of C. Jolly Bavoillot, designed by Giacomelli.

"Atala" first appeared in "Le Mercure Française," when Chateaubriand was editor-in-chief. It was published surreptitiously in this edition immediately on its conclusion, without the author's consent.

On the first fly-leaf is written: "This book was used by Abraham Lincoln when making his first great anti-slavery speeches—preceding the memorable campaign with Douglas. He quoted largely from Clay's speeches with wonderful effect. Jas. W. Somers, formerly of Urbana, Illinois—then a young lawyer and personal friend of Lincoln." "In reading from this book I distinctly remember that Mr. Lincoln, for the first time, used spectacles, apologizing to his audience, saying that he was not as young as he used to be. This was, I think, in the fall of 1856. James W. Somers."

The business card of Mr. Somers is pasted opposite. The second fly-leaf bears the inscription, "James W. Somers bought of Thos. A. McLaurie, Urbana, Ill."

Inserted is an endorsement in the autograph of Lincoln, "James W. Somers I personally know to be a most worthy young man; but whether he can be promoted, must be left to the Secretary. A. Lincoln, June 11, 1863."

Passages on twenty-one pages have been marked in blue, red or black pencil, or ink, either by Lincoln or as having been read by Lincoln in his speeches.

8vo, original pictorial boards, uncut.

The First Edition, and a large thick paper copy of one of the most interesting of antiquarian books, especially so as it is in the original pictorial boards.

This copy contains the advertisements, the rare half title, the music for Tom's song, "London Town's a Dashing Place," and the printer's name at the lower margin on back of half-title, without any advertisements. Also, the footnote commencing "Second Edition," on page nine (which Cohn attributed to the first spurious edition).

CRUIKSHANK ILLUSTRATIONS.—Tales of Irish Life. Illustrative of the Manners, Customs and Conditions of the People, with designs by George Cruikshank. [Quotation by M. J. Whitty.]

London: Published by J. Robins & Co., Ivy Lane, Paternoster Row, 1824.

12mo, two volumes, three-quarters green morocco, gilt top, uncut.

The First Edition, with the half title, by M. J. Whitty.

CRUIKSHANK ILLUSTRATIONS.—Pierce Egan's Finish to the Adventure of Tom, Jerry, and Logic, in their Pursuits through Life in and out of London: Illustrated by the Pencil of Mr. Robert Cruikshank. In 36 Scenes from Real Life, and enriched with several Designs on Wood by the same Artist, etc.

London: Printed by C. Baynes, 13, Duke-Street, Lincoln's-Inn-Field, for G. Virtue, 26 Ivy Lane, Paternoster Row; Bath Street, Bristol; and Great Ancoates Street, Manchester. 1830.

8vo, original boards, uncut.

The First Edition, with the edges entirely uncut. The woodcuts in the text at top of pages 40-42 are lacking.

CRUIKSHANK ILLUSTRATIONS. ANSTEY (CHRISTOPHER).—The New Bath Guide, or Memoirs of B-N-R-D Family, in a Series of Poetical Epistles by Christopher Anstey, Esq. A New Edition with a Biographical and Topographical Preface and Anecdotal Annotations by John Britton, F.S.A. and Member of Several Other Societies. Embellished with engravings.

London: Hurst, Chance & Co., St. Paul's Churchyard, 1830.

8vo, full red crushed levant morocco, gilt top, uncut.

The First Edition. Anstey's poem was first published in 1766 and Smollett drew largely from it in the writing of his "Humphrey Clinker."

CRUIKSHANK ILLUSTRATIONS.—CLARKE (WILLIAM). Three Courses and a Dessert. The Decorations by George Cruikshank. [Quotation.]

Second Edition.

London: Vizetelly, Branston & Co., Fleet Street, 1830.

8vo, half roan, uncut.

The Second Edition, with fifty-one woodcuts, mostly signed with G. C.'s initials. These illustrations, among the best that Cruikshank did, are frequently found in extra-illustrated books.

CRUIKSHANK ILLUSTRATIONS.—MERLE (WILLIAM HENRY). Odds and Ends, in Verse and Prose, by William Henry Merle, Esq., Illustrated by George Cruikshank, from Designs by the Author.

London: Printed for Longman, Rees, Orme,
Brown & Green, Paternoster Row, 1831.

8vo, half morocco, red edges.

The First Edition. It was not published, but printed for the Author. On page 40 is "Mary Queen of Scots' Glass."

CRUIKSHANK ILLUSTRATIONS. — My Sketch Book. Designed, Etched and Published by George Cruikshank, 23, Myddleton Terrace, Pentonville, and Sold by Charles Tilt, 86, Fleet Street, Dec. 1st, 1834.

Oblong quarto, original cloth, gilt.

The First Edition, second issue. Containing thirty-six large plates, each with five to ten amusing etchings, all coloured by hand. The first state of Plate 2, Part V, has on a bag the letters "OGLD" instead of "GOLD," which were changed in later issues.

CRUIKSHANK ILLUSTRATIONS.—(1). A
Comic Alphabet, Designed, Etched and Published by George Cruikshank, No. 23, Myddleton Terrace, Pentonville, 1837. Twenty-four plates printed on India paper and mounted. (2). The Comic Alphabet, containing 26 coloured illustrations by (Robert) Cruikshank. By W. R. Macdonald.

London, n. d.

12mo, two volumes in one, full red crushed levant morocco, gilt sides and back, gilt top, uncut, with the original covers of both volumes preserved, by Tout.

The First Edition. An unusually fine copy. Proof impressions of the George Cruikshank Alphabet are exceedingly scarce.

The First Issue of the First Edition, with the blank page, 236, and the excessively rare slip facing it. Only a few copies are known having both the blank page and the slip.

CATALOGUE OF THE LIBRARY OF

There are nineteen etchings by George Cruikshank and the remainder are by John Leech.

CRUIKSHANK ILLUSTRATIONS.—[BARHAM (RICHARD HARRIS).] Martin's Vagaries: Being a Sequel to "A Tale of a Tub," Recently Discovered at the University of Oxford, Edited with Notes by Scriblerus Oxoniensis, and Illustrated by G. Cruikshank.

London: A. H. Bailey & Co., 83, Cornhill, 1843.

12mo, original wrappers, unopened.

The First Edition, with two spirited etchings. A fine copy of one of the scarcer of the small books illustrated by him.

CRUIKSHANK ILLUSTRATIONS.—"Martin's Vagaries."

Another copy.

CRUIKSHANK ILLUSTRATIONS.—AINSWORTH (W. HARRISON). Windsor Castle. An Historical Romance, by W. Harrison Ainsworth, Esq. New Edition, Illustrated by George Cruikshank and Tony Johannot, with Designs on Wood by W. Alfred Delamotte.

London: Henry Colburn, Publisher, Great Marlborough Street, 1843.

8vo, half morocco, gilt top, uncut, original paper covers bound in.

The First Edition with all the Cruikshank plates that appeared in "Ainsworth's Magazine," but without imprint or date. There are fourteen plates by Cruikshank, and four by Johannot, with a portrait of the author by Maelise, engraved by S. Freeman.

CRUIKSHANK ILLUSTRATIONS.—A BECKETT (GILBERT ABBOTT). The Comic Blackstone. By Gilbert Abbott A Beckett.

London: Punch Office, 1846.

by Pyrates. / Written by Himself. /

London: / Printed for W. Taylor at the Ship
in Pater-Noster / Row, MDCCXIX. /

The First Edition, 7¾ by 4¾ inches. Frontispiece. This copy lacks the correct catchword "always" at the foot of the first page of the preface, and the word "apply" is not incorrectly spelled "aply," on verso of Preface. It also lacks the four pages at end, advertising books of William Taylor.

(2) The Farther / Adventures / of / Robinson Crusoe; / Being the Second and Last Part / of his / Life, / And of the Strange Surprising / Accounts of his Travels / Round three Parts of the Globe. / Written by Himself. / To which is added

DICKENS(CHARLES).—The Posthumous Papers of the Pickwick Club. By Charles Dickens. With forty-three illustrations by R. Seymour and Phiz. London: Chapman and Hall . . . MDCCCXXXVII.

8vo, full red crushed levant morocco, gilt top, uncut.

The First Edition, with the "W" instead of the "V" above the door in the frontispiece.

DICKENS (CHARLES).—A Christmas Carol. In Prose. Being a Ghost Story of Christmas. With Illustrations by John Leech.

London: Chapman & Hall . . . MDCCCXLIV.

12mo, original cloth, gilt edges.

One of the experimental copies printed for Dickens in order that he might choose the colors of ink to be used in the title-page.

CATALOGUE OF THE LIBRARY OF

The title-page is printed in red and green, and the printer's imprint and half-title in green, which combination was rejected for red and blue. Layard in his "Suppressed Plates" says: "It may be mentioned that there are two or three copies known with the title-page and half-title in green and red instead of red and blue." Although dated 1844, these experimental copies were printed in November or December, 1843. The end papers are green, not yellow, and the issue bears Stave I, the most popular feature of the first issue.

DICKENS (CHARLES).—The Christmas Books,
as follows:

1. A Christmas Carol. In Prose. Being a Ghost Story of Christmas. With illustrations by John Leech.

London: Chapman & Hall . . . MDCCCXLIII.
12mo, original cloth, uncut.

The First Issue of the First Edition, with the title-page printed in blue and red, and the green end papers, as well as the "Stave I."

2. The Chimes: A Goblin Story of Some Bells
That Rang An Old Year Out and a New Year In.

London: Chapman and Hall . . . MDCCCXLV.
12mo, original cloth, uncut, with leaf of advertisement.

The First Issue of First Edition, with engraved vignette title-page and illustrations.

3. The Battle of Life, a Love Story.

London: Bradbury & Evans . . . 1846.

12mo, original cloth, uncut, with the leaf of advertisement.

This is the accepted First Edition. The engraved title has the words, "A Love Story," in a simple scroll, with the publisher's imprint and date below.

4. The Haunted Man and the Ghost's Bargain.
A Fancy for Christmas Time.

London, 1846.

12mo, original cloth, uncut, with the leaf of advertisement.

This copy of the First Edition has the broken pagination at page 166.

5. The Cricket on the Hearth, a Fairy Tale of Home.

London: Printed and published for the Author by Bradbury and Evans. MDCCCXLVI.

12mo, original cloth, uncut, and the leaf of advertisement.

The First Edition.

DICKENS (CHARLES).—Dombey and Son. With illustrations by H. K. Browne.

London, 1846-8.

8vo, twenty parts in nineteen, original paper wrappers, uncut.

The First Edition and a fine set of the original numbers, with the numerous advertisements. Includes the "slip" in No. II, announcing: "A New Christmas Book." In No. III appears the first announcement of the publication of Thackeray's "Vanity Fair," with a reproduction of the cover design. In No. XV is a notice that "No Christmas Book" will be issued that year by Mr. Dickens.

DICKENS (CHARLES).—Bleak House. With illustrations by H. K. Browne.

London, 1853.

8vo, twenty parts in nineteen, original pictorial wrappers, uncut.

The First Edition, in original parts as issued.

CATALOGUE OF THE LIBRARY OF

DICKENS (CHARLES).—Little Dorrit. With illustrations by H. K. Browne.

London, 1855-57.

8vo, twenty parts in nineteen, original paper wrappers, uncut.

The First Issue of First Edition, in parts, in fine condition. Contains the "Slip" in Part XVI, correcting an error in the preceding chapter, and the usual advertisements.

DICKENS (CHARLES).—The Mystery of Edwin Drood. With twelve illustrations by S. L. Fields and a Portrait. London, 1870.

8vo, six parts, original pictorial wrappers, uncut, with the advertisements.

The First Edition, with the prefatory note dated August 12, 1870, referring to the unfinished state in which the story was left at the author's death.

DIDEROT (DENIS).—Les Bijoux Indiscrets.

Au Monomotapa [Paris, 1748].

12mo, two volumes, full blue crushed levant morocco, gilt top, uncut.

Large Paper copy of the First Edition, with six engravings and title-vignette, which is repeated.

Cohen says that a re-impression or counterfeit of this edition was printed, with less beautiful typography, the distinguishing marks being an ornament on the title-page instead of a figure, and the figure of "Amour" in the first plate facing toward the left; but the title-page contains a figure, not an ornament. Whether the plates belong to the re-impression or not, the text is of the genuine first edition.

D'ISRAELI (ISAAC).—Curiosities of Literature by Isaac D'Israeli. With a View of the Life and Writings of the Author by his Son.

London: Edward Moxon, Dover Street, 1849.

8vo, three volumes, half green morocco, by Wood.

DODGSON (CHARLES LUTWIDGE). [“LEWIS CARROLL.”]—Alice’s Adventures in Wonderland. By Lewis Carroll. With Forty-two illustrations by John Tenniel.

London: Macmillan and Co., 1866.

12mo, original cloth, gilt.

The First Published Edition. The first issue of this work was condemned by both author and illustrator, for the pictures were unsatisfactory. It was accordingly recalled and a new edition, printed by Richard Clay, sent out in its place.

Enclosed with this copy are the two pamphlets, “Christmas Greeting. (From a Fairy to a Child),” and “An Easter Greeting to Every Child Who loves Alice.” Also, an A. L. S. of one page. “Rev. C. L. Dodgson, Christ Church, Oxford” (stamped in blue in upper right-hand corner). Dated, Nov. 29/82; “My dear Evey, I find Miss Leith’s Birthday-Book contains only one verse from ‘Alice’! so it will not interfere with your friends’ publication. I hope the enclosed will improve your minds. Yours affectionately, C. L. Dodgson.”

DODGSON (CHARLES LUTWIDGE). [“LEWIS CARROLL.”]—Through the Looking Glass, and What Alice Found There. By Lewis Carroll. With fifty illustrations by John Tenniel.

London: Macmillan and Co., 1872.

12mo, original cloth, gilt.

The First Edition.

DODGSON (CHARLES LUTWIDGE). [“LEWIS CARROLL.”]—The Hunting of the Snark, an Agony in Eight Fits. By Lewis Carroll.

London: Macmillan and Co., 1876.

12mo, original pictorial cloth, gilt.

The First Edition, with nine illustrations by H. Holliday.

DODGSON (CHARLES LUTWIDGE). [“LEWIS CARROLL.”]—Rhyme? and Reason? By Lewis Carroll.

With Sixty-five illustrations by Arthur B. Frost and Nine by Henry H. Holliday.

London: Macmillan and Co., 1883.

12mo, original cloth, uncut.

The First Edition.

DORAN (JOHN).—Memories of Our Great Towns, with Anecdotic Gleanings concerning their Worthies and their Oddities.

London: Chatto and Windus, 1878.

12mo, one volume extended to two, full green crushed levant morocco, gilt top, uncut, by the Guild of Women Binders.

Contains one hundred extra plates: fourteen coloured plates and eighty-six portraits, sixteen coloured portraits, two autograph letters by Leman Rede to Mrs. Davidge and Michael Kelly to Harley, 1817, two autograph signatures, and one song of Charles Dibdin engraved, with music.

This was the last work published by Dr. Doran.

DORAT (JOSEPH).—Les Baisers, Précédés du Mois de Mai, Poème.

La Haye et Paris: Lambert et Delalain, 1770.

8vo, full crimson crushed levant morocco, gilt inside borders, doublures of blue levant, blue silk fly-leaves, gilt edges, by Lortie.

Title printed in red and black, frontispiece engraved by Ponce after Eisen; one plate by De Longueil after Eisen; fleuron on the title and head- and tail-pieces, all engraved by Aliamet, Baquoy, Binet, Delaunay, Lingée, De Longueil, Masquelier, Massard, Née and Ponce, after Eisen, with the exception of two, which are engraved after Marillier. One of the copies printed on Dutch paper.

The rare First Issue of the First Edition, with faulty pagina-tion in the first leaves of the "Poem de Mois de Mai," and without the "Imitations de plusieurs poetes latins"; the one to be most desired, as the impressions of the plates of those with the rectified pagination and supplement are inferior. Baron R.
Portalis pronounces it the masterpiece of the eighteenth century, and deservedly so, for the illustrations stand unrivalled in gracefulness.

DOUCET (JEROME).—Petrone, (Introduction & Fragments). Illustrés de Huit Compositions de Louis Edouard Fournier. Eaux-Fortes de Xavier Lesueur.

Paris: A. Ferroud, 1902.

8vo, citron crushed levant morocco, mosaic panels of blue morocco on back and sides, gilt sprays of roses and leaves, figured satin linings, gilt on the rough, original covers bound in, by The Club Bindery.

One of fifty copies on Japan paper, with the etchings in four states; outline, remarque proofs in bistre and in black, and finished state. Original drawing by Fournier inserted.

Folio, full crushed levant morocco, gilt on the rough, by Rivière.

Collation: Two leaves without signatures; B-I, in twos. Title as above, one leaf (verso blank). "To The Reader," one leaf. The poem, B-I-122.

The First Edition. The Earl of Shaftesbury, here typified as Achitophel, for his share in the conspiracy to place the young Duke of Monmouth (Absalom) on the throne, was committed to the Tower in July, 1681, and this satire appeared in November, just before the Grand Jury acquitted him. It was undertaken at the desire of Charles II, and Dryden was at work on it for about nine months. It is the most celebrated of Dryden's political satires, and was answered in a parody called "Towser the Second," said to be by Henry Clare; also by the Duke of Buckingham in "Poetical Reflections," and by Samuel Pordage in "Azaria and Hushai," and by Settle in "Absalom Senior."

DRYDEN (JOHN).—Albion and Albanus: An Opera. Perform'd at the Queen's Theatre, in Dorset Garden.

The extremely rare First Edition, in excellent uncut state. There is a long and interesting prose preface on opera writing.

DRYDEN (JOHN).—The / Hind / And The / Panther. / A / Poem, / In Three Parts. /—Antiquam exquirite matrem. / Et vera, incesfu, patuit Dea.—Virg. /

London: / Printed for Jacob Tonson, at the Judges Head in / Chancery Lane near Fleet-street, 1687.

4to, full morocco, gilt, by Stikeman.

Collation: A-S in fours; T, five leaves.

The excessively rare First Edition. Contains the leaf "Licensed, April the 11th, 1687," and the three-line Errata, on the verso of T5. A fine tall copy.

This poem is Dryden's longest, and being a justification of his religious beliefs, is written in his best manner, many of the lines being amongst the most musical in the English language. It defends the Roman Catholic religion (written after Dryden's conversion), and its publication was deliberately timed to aid the King (James II) in his scheme of a Catholic revival. The key to the characters is as follows: Hind (Catholics); Panther (Church of England); Bear (The Independents); Hare (Quakers); Ape (Atheists); Lyon (The King); Boar (Anabaptist); Fox (Socinian); Wolf (Calvinist). The publication brought out Matthew Prior's "The Country Mouse and the City Mouse" (see Prior), a most witty satire on Dryden's mistaken effort. Sir Walter Scott states that the London edition is the first, and that the one bearing "Holyrood House" is a reprint, as the title states.

FEDERALIST.—The / Federalist: / A Collection / of / Essays. / Written in Favour of the / New Constitution, / As Agreed upon by the Federal Convention, / September 17, 1787. / In Two Volumes / Vol. I. / New-York: / Printed and Sold by J. and M. M'Lean, / No. 41, Hanover-Square. / M, DCC, LXXXVIII.

16mo, two volumes, full crimson crushed levant morocco, special tooling, gilt top, uncut, by Taffin.

The First Edition, and very scarce in the uncut state.

This famous political book contains the eighty-five essays written by Alexander Hamilton, John Jay and James Madison, which powerfully influenced the adoption of the Federal Constitution, not only in New York, but in the other states as well. James Madison's papers were changed considerably in later editions.

Numbers 2, 3, 4, 5, and 62, were written by Mr. Jay; numbers 10, 14, 17, 18, 21, 37 to 58, and 63, were written by Mr. Madison; and the remainder, fifty-one in all, by Alexander Hamilton.

FITZGERALD (EDWARD).—Rubáiyát of Omar Kháyyám. The Astronomer-Poet of Persia. Translated into English Verse.

London: Bernard Quaritch, 1859.

4to, original wrappers, as issued.

The First Edition, and one of the rarest books of Victorian literature. The translation was finished in January, 1858, when it was sent to the editor of Frazer's Magazine, who kept it a year and then returned it to the author. Fitzgerald then had the poem printed by Quaritch, the edition consisting of no more than two hundred and fifty copies, of which two hundred were left in the printer's hands. The work did not sell and after a time was thrown in quantities on the penny stand. The greater number of copies were lightly thrown aside and destroyed.

FORD'S THEATRE PLAY-BILLS.—The Original Play-Bills Issued at the Theatre the Morning and Evening of the Day on which Lin- coln was Assassinated; Variations and Facsimiles; Data concerning them; am A. L. S. by O. H. Oldroyd; together with some earlier bills of interest.

Thirty-five items mounted on thick cartridge paper, and bound in a narrow folio volume, half morocco, gilt.

The scarcest of the bills contained in this volume is that printed in the afternoon, after it had been definitely ascertained that Lincoln would attend the performance. This is distinguished by having inserted a patriotic verse of eight lines, and by the omission of the list of prices of the seats. It is extremely rare, and probably is the kind used by Lincoln. The regular bill for the performance, printed in the morning, accompanies it.

In addition to these two there is another variety, with the imprint of Polkinhorn, in which the word "chairs" is omitted after "orchestra" in the list of prices of admission, and reading "Sensational Drama," instead of "Sensation Drama," as in the others. This bill and the other issue without the verse have been declared on authority to have been found in the box after Lincoln was carried out, but it is natural to suppose that the variety with the verse especially printed in his honor would have been handed to the President and his party.

The other bills in the volume include facsimiles by other printers; the issues of Polkinhorn bill announcing the attendance of the President; bills for previous performances in the same week; issues from October 19th to 26th, when Junius Brutus Booth appeared in the cast; two bills with Mrs. D. P. Bowers' name, and others. The whole embraces every variety of the "Lincoln Bill," including originals and forgeries.

GERM (THE).—ART AND POETRY.—Being Thoughts Towards Nature. Conducted principally by Artists.

London: Aylott and Jones, 8. Paternoster Row. G. F. Tupper, Printer, Clement's Lane, Lombard Street. 1850.

8vo, four parts, with four plates, in the paper wrappers, uncut.

After the publication of the first two parts, the title was altered from "The Germ" to "Art and Poetry." Parts 1 and 2 of this copy have a slip of paper bearing the new title pasted over the upper portion of the wrapper.

Accompanying this copy are the following: The original octavo printed announcement of the publication, a printed letter from G. F. Tupper, the printer of the magazine, soliciting subscriptions to the work, the original subscription form, and envelope.

GOLDSMITH (OLIVER).—The Life of Richard Nash, of Bath, Esq.; Extracted principally from his Original Papers.

Printed for J. Newbery . . . at Bath, 1762.

8vo, full brown morocco, by Rivière.

The First Edition, large paper copy, with portrait of Richard Nash, by Walker, containing the leaves of advertisement of "Books just published by J. Newbery."

GOLDSMITH (OLIVER).—The Traveller, or a Prospect of Society; a Poem.

London, 1765.

4to, full green crushed levant morocco, gilt, by Rivière.

The First Edition, with the half-title and leaf of advertisements. Second issue, the first having been published December 19th, 1764.

GOLDSMITH(OLIVER).—The Deserted Village.
A Poem. By Dr. Goldsmith.

Lond.: Printed for W. Griffin, at Garrick's
Head, in Catherine-Street, Strand, 1770.

8vo, full brown morocco, gilt.

There were six quarto editions published by Griffin in 1770. The first of the three small octavo editions published in 1770 may be most easily identified by the misprint in line 37 of the poem, which there reads: "Amidst thy bowers the tyrant's head is seen." In all later editions this line is corrected to read: "Hand" instead of "head."

This copy has been corrected, and is therefore not the earliest issue, of which only two copies are known.

GOLDSMITH (OLIVER).—She Stoops to Conquer; or, The Mistakes of a Night. A Comedy. As it is acted at the Theatre-Royal in Covent Garden.

London: Printed for F. Newbery 1773.

8vo, full morocco.

The First Edition, first issue, with the half-title, Dedication to Dr. Johnson, Prologue by David Garrick, Epilogues by Dr. Goldsmith and J. Craddock, Esq.; the price at foot of title, the hiatus in pagination 72-81, also, the many other errors in pagination. The last leaf is number 114. The word "Diggory" is omitted from the Dramatis Personæ. P. 9, catchword "scene" is printed in small type. Signature KI, P. 65, is misprinted I, and its pagination is misprinted. The headline of this page is also misprinted "A Comedy." Catchword P. 100 (reverse of N. 2), "Tony" is misprinted for "Hastings."

This play is said to have succeeded on account of Dr. Johnson's frequent and hearty laughs the first night.

GOLDSMITH (OLIVER).—The Haunch of Venison, a Poetical Epistle.

London: G. Kearsley and J. Ridley, 1776.

4to, full levant morocco, gilt.

The First Edition, with the rare half-title and with the portrait of Goldsmith etched by Bretherton, after a drawing by Bunbury.

GONCOURT (EDMOND ET JULES DE).—Les Maîtresses de Louis XV. Lettres et Documents inédits.

Paris, 1860.

8vo, two volumes, full red crushed levant morocco, doublures of citron morocco, inside borders, gilt top, uncut, by Thibaron-Joly.

The First Edition, one of eight copies printed on Holland paper. Extra-illustrated by the insertion of one hundred and fifty-four portraits and two autographs of Madame du Barry and Edmond de Goncourt. There are proofs before letters of the portrait of the Prince de Condé by Scriven; Cardinal de Bernis, by Savart, the Dauphin, by L'Empereur, the Duc de Choiseul, by Moreau, and Louis XVIII, by R. Morghen; fine proofs by St. Aubin (9), Le Beau (9), Gaucher (6), Ceroni (6), Cochin (5), Fiquet (4), Savart (2), Marcenay (3), Delâtre (3), portraits of Madame de Pompadour by Ceroni, St. Aubin, etc.; of Madame du Barry, by Ceroni, Gaucher, etc. In addition there are two original etchings by Madame de Pompadour, and a portrait of Louis XV (Volume II, p. 212) of marvellous execution, "fait à la plume" by Oudinot in 1795.

Folio, three volumes in two, old marbled calf.

The First Edition, with the extremely rare seven suppressed leaves of the Voyage to Cadiz in 1596 (pages 607-619, of Vol. I). It is an unusual feature to find the Voyage to Cadiz inserted, as it does not really belong to the 1599 issue of Vol. I.

On the title-page of the 1598 edition of Vol. I, the Cadiz voyage was announced, but the leaves containing it were suppressed by order of Queen Elizabeth after the disgrace of the Earl of Essex. In the issue of 1599, it was not intended to appear, and all mention of it is omitted from the title.

In Vol. I, pages 187-208, is a curious poetical treatise entitled "The processe of the Libel of English policie, exhorting all England to keepe the sea," which is not in the first edition.

Hearn's own copy, with his stamp in three places, and annotations on six pages, made by him. Hearn used practically all the proverbs (pp. 120-127) in "Ghombo Zhebes." The "Creole Bibliography" credits that work as an original source.

HENNEPIN (FATHER LOUIS).—A New Discovery of a Vast Country in America Extending Four Thousand Miles, between New France and New Mexico, with a Description of the Great Lakes, Cataracts, Rivers, Plants and Animals. Also, the Manners, Customs, and Languages of the Several Native Indians and the Advantage of Commerce with those Different Nations. With a Continuation, giving an Account of the Attempts of the Sieur de la Salle upon the Mines of St. Barbe. The Taking of Quebec by the English, etc.

London, 1699.

8vo, full crimson morocco, gilt.

The First Edition. Two folding maps and seven plates. A fine copy of this celebrated and very rare book. The frontispiece has been neatly inlaid, maps and several of the folding plates mounted. The plates include a fine impression of the famous view of Niagara, described by Father Hennepin as being six hundred feet high.

HERRICK (ROBERT).—Hesperides: / Or, The Works / Both / Humane & Divine / of Robert Herrick Esq. / Ovid. / Effugient avidos Carminaftra Rogos. / London / Printed for John Williams and Francis Eglesfield, / and are to be fold by Tho. London. / Printed for John Williams, and Francis Eglesfield. / 1647.

8vo, full orange morocco, gilt back and sides, broad dentelle inside borders, leather joints, by Roger Payne.

Collation: Four leaves without signatures; B-Z and Aa-Ce, in eights; Aa-Ee, in eights.

The rare First Edition and probably the rarest state of the title-page. Most of the copies sold recently, the Robert Hoe, Thomas J. McKee, and possibly others, were of the variety "Printed for John Williams, and Francis Eglesfield, and are to be sold at the Crown and Marygold on Saint Pauls Churchyard." It contains the preliminary blank leaf and the "Errata."

CATALOGUE OF THE LIBRARY OF

This copy has high association interest, having been in several noted collections, as follows:

1. Thomas Warton, eminent historian of English poetry, and poet-laureate. There is a lengthy transcript from Edward Phillips' "Theatrum Poetarum," 1675, regarding the work, written entirely in Warton's autograph, on margin of signature R2. (Rebound after his ownership, as he died in 1790).

2. Rev. Thomas Corser, author of "Collectanea Anglo-Poetica," where in Part VII of that monumental work (p. 200) he gives a very extended description of the work, stating that it was bound by Roger Payne.

3. The Earl of Crawford. Number 1033 in the catalogue of that famous collection dispersed in London in 1887, describes the book as "mor. tooled, leather joints, gt. edges, by C. Lewis, in imitation of Roger Payne." The binding is not signed, and there seems to be no evidence to prove the conclusion of the statement made in the Crawford catalogue that it is "in imitation of Roger Payne."

The volume has a genuine Roger Payne binding; a view in accord with that of two of the most eminent collectors and authorities in this country. In addition it has the interest of being the identical copy mentioned in Dibdin's "Library Companion," 1825, Vol. II, page 711, as follows: "Mr. William Combes of Henley, a gentleman who collects with no inconsiderable ardour, is the fortunate owner of Joseph Warton's own copy of Herrick's Hesperides—and he carries this book in his right hand coat pocket, and the first edition of Walton's Complete Angler in his left, when, with tapering rod and trembling float, he enjoys his favorite diversion of angling on the banks of the Thames."

There is also a note in this copy, by Mr. Combes, respecting some errors in the pagination.

This copy was in the Earl of Crawford's library in London. Collated August 14th, 1887, and perfect.

HERRICK (ROBERT).—Poems.

See Kelmscott Press.

HOGARTH (WILLIAM).—IRELAND (JOHN). Hogarth Illustrated. By John Ireland.

London, 1897-98.

Svo, three volumes, full morocco, gilt.

Fine impressions of the plates. This copy has the two suppressed plates especially engraved for this edition. There is also inserted a long autograph letter signed by John Ireland, relating to the work, and two prospectuses of it. The "Before and After" plates are in proof state.

HOLBEIN (HANS).—The Dance of Death. Painted by Holbein and Engraved by W. Hollar. N. p., n. d.

18mo, full crushed levant morocco, by Bedford.

Frontispiece and numerous engravings on copper. Besides portraits of Holbein and Hollar, there is a complete series of the famous copperplate engravings to illustrate this well-known volume.

HOLLAWAY (E. W.).

See "Reynard the Fox."

HOLT (ROSA BELLE).—Rugs: Oriental and Occidental. Antique and Modern. A Handbook for Ready Reference. With thirty-three full-page illustrations, twelve in full colour, and other drawings in the text, and a map of the Orient. New and enlarged edition, entirely reset.

Chicago: A. C. McClurg & Co., 1908.

12mo, original cloth, gilt top, uncut.

HORN BOOK.—An A B C Book, or the Alphabet printed on a thin piece of oak covered with leather and shaped with a handle. The letters being protected from damage by a transparent sheet of horn, which is secured to the board by tacks driven round the edge of the horn. Made about 1700-1715.

Size, three inches broad by five inches high.

A most interesting specimen of the general mode of teaching very young children in the village schools two centuries ago.

London: / Printed for Richard Meighen, / 1640.

Folio, two volumes, full blue morocco, gilt.

The engraved title-page of an architectural design is the work of William Hole. There is the general title and separate titles for each of the plays.

The First Collected Edition of Jonson's works, edited by the author himself, and very carefully printed. A particularly interesting feature of this edition is, that it contains the names of the actors who took part in some of the plays, including Shakespeare, Burbage, Heming, Condel, and others. This is one of the great books of the Elizabethan Age.

The first volume contains Every Man in his Humour; Every Man out of his Humour; Cynthia's Revels; Poetaster; Seianus, his Fall; Volpone, or The Foxe; Epicoene; The Alchemist; Catiline, His Conspiracy; The Epigrammes; Part of the King's Entertainment in Passing to his Coronation; A Panegyre, on the Happie Entrance of James our Sovereigne; A Particular Entertainment of the Queen and Prince; and Masquēs at Court. The second volume contains, besides the plays mentioned on the title-page, The Magnetick Lady; A Tale of a Tub; The Sad Shepherd; Masques; Under-Woods; Mortimer, his Fall; Horace, His Art or Poetrie; The English Grammar and Timber.

KELMSCOTT PRESS

MORRIS (WILLIAM).—The Story of the Glittering Plain, which has been also called the Land of Living men, or the Acre of the undying, Written by William Morris.

[Colophon]: Here endeth the Glittering Plain, printed by William Morris at the Kelmscott Press, Upper Mall, Hammersmith, in the County of Middlesex: and finished on the 4th day of April of the year 1891. Sold by Reeves & Turner, 196 Strand, London.

Small 4to, original vellum, uncut, with ties.

Only two hundred copies were printed, the first at the Press.

This famous Press is now discontinued. The whole of the wood-blocks were sent to the British Museum, on condition that they were not to be used for the space of one hundred years. This proviso, and the fact that the master mind, and also one of the able illustrators (the late Sir Edward Burne-Jones) have both passed away, make the volumes issued by William Morris extremely valuable. These publications are among the most magnificent specimens of typographic art that have ever been produced, and stand for all that is luxurious, artistic and beautiful.

MORRIS (WILLIAM).—The Story of the Glittering Plain.

Another copy, with label and signature of T. J. Cobden-Sanderson.

MORRIS (WILLIAM).—Poems by the Way.
Written by William Morris.

[Colophon]: Here endeth Poems by the Way, written by William Morris, and printed by him at the Kelmscott Press, 1891.

Small 4to, vellum.

Only three hundred copies printed. This is the first book printed at the Press in two colours, and the first in which the smaller printer's mark appears. The poems were written between the years 1870 and 1891. This copy contains the book-label and the signature of T. J. Cobden-Sanderson.

CAXTON (WILLIAM).—The Golden Legend of Master William Caxton Done Anew. [Colophon]
Here ends this new edition of William Caxton's Golden Legend, in which there is no change from the original, except for correction of errors of the press, & some few other amendments thought necessary for the understanding of the text. It is edited by Frederick S. Ellis, & printed by me William Morris at the Kelmscott Press 1892.

4to, three volumes, boards.

Only five hundred copies printed, with two woodcuts designed by Sir Edward Burne-Jones.

MORRIS (WILLIAM).—News from Nowhere: or, An Epoch of Rest, being some Chapters from a Utopian Romance, by William Morris.

[Colophon]: This book, News from Nowhere or an Epoch of Rest, was written by William Morris, and printed by him at the Kelmscott Press, 1892.

Small 4to, vellum, with ties.

Three hundred copies printed in black and red in the Golden type, with borders and a woodcut engraved by W. H. Hooper from a design by C. M. Gerer. The frontispiece is a picture of the old manor-house in the village of Kelmscott, from which the Press took its name. The text of this volume was printed before that of Shakespeare's Poems and Sonnets, but was held back awaiting the frontispiece.

MORRIS (WILLIAM).—A Dream of John Ball and a King's Lesson. By William Morris.

[Colophon]: This book was written by William Morris and printed by him at the Kelmscott Press, 1892.

Small 4to, vellum, with ties.

Only three hundred copies printed. The frontispiece was specially redrawn for this edition, and engraved by Mr. Hooper, who engraved nearly all Sir E. Burne-Jones' illustrations for the Kelmscott Press works. The inscriptions below the figures, and the narrow border, were designed by Morris himself.

MORRIS (WILLIAM).—The Defence of Guenevere, and other Poems.

[Colophon]: Here ends the Defence of Guenevere, and other Poems, written by William Morris, and printed by him at the Kelmscott Press, 1892.

Small 4to, vellum.

Only ten copies printed in black and red on vellum.

BIBLIA INNOCENTIIUM: Being the Story of God's Chosen People before the Coming of our Lord Jesus Christ Upon Earth, Written Anew for Children by J. W. Mackail, Sometime Fellow of Balliol College, Oxford.

[Colophon]: Here ends this book called Biblia Innocentium, written by J. W. Mackail, and printed by William Morris at the Kelmscott Press, 1892.

8vo, vellum.

Only two hundred copies were printed.

BLUNT (WILFRID SCAWEN).—The Love Lyrics & Songs of Proteus by Wilfrid Scawen Blunt with the Love Sonnets of Proteus by the same Author now reprinted in their full text with many sonnets omitted from the earlier editions.

London, MDCCCXCII. [Colophon] Here ends the Love-Lyrics and Songs of Proteus, written by Wilfred Scawen Blunt: with the Love-Sonnets of Proteus by the same authors. Printed by William Morris at the Kelmscott Press, . . . 1892.

8vo, vellum, with ties.

This is the only book in which the initials are printed in red. This was done by the author's wish. Only three hundred copies printed.

THE RECUEYELL OF THE HISTORYES OF TROYE.

[Colophon]: Here ends this new edition of William Caxton's Recuyell of the Historyes of Troy, done after the first Edition: corrected for the press by H. Halliday Sparling, and printed by me William Morris at the Kelmscott Press, 1892.

Large 4to, two volumes, vellum.

Only three hundred copies printed on paper. A reprint of the first book printed in English.

REYNARD THE FOXE.—The History of Reynard the Foxe. [Colophon] Here ends the History of Reynard the Foxe, done into English out of Dutch by William Morris, at the Kelmscott Press, Upper Mall, Hammersmith, in the County of Middlesex. This book was corrected for the press by Henry Halliday Sparling, . . . 1892.

Folio, full vellum, with ties.

Only three hundred copies printed.

RUSKIN (JOHN).—The Nature of Gothic, a Chapter of the Stones of Venice. With a Preface by William Morris.

[Colophon]: Here ends the Nature of Gothic by John Ruskin, printed by William Morris at the Kelmscott Press, 1892.

Small 4to, vellum.

Only five hundred copies printed on paper. This chapter of the "Stones of Venice" Ruskin always regarded as the most important in his book. Mr. Morris paid due tribute to it in his "Hopes and Fears for Art."

CAVENDISH (GEORGE).—The Life of Thomas Wolsey, Cardinal Archbishop of York, Written by George Cavendish. [Colophon] Transcribed after the Autograph Manuscript of the Author, now in the British Museum, by F. S. Ellis, and finished the 25th day of December, in the year 1892, in the Parish of Cockington in the County of Devon, and printed by me William Morris, at the Kelmscott Press 1893.

Small 4to, full vellum, with ties.

Only two hundred and fifty copies printed.

THE HISTORY OF GODEFREY OF BOL-OYNE AND OF THE CONQUEST OF IHERU-SALEM.

[Colophon]: This new edition of William Caxton's Godeffroy of Boloyne, done after the first edition, was corrected for the press by H. Halliday Sparling, and printed by me William Morris, at the Kelmscott Press, 1893.

Folio, vellum.

Only three hundred printed on paper, and the first book published and sold at the Kelmscott Press, the others having been merely printed there.

Contains the book label of T. J. Cobden-Sanderson.

CATALOGUE OF THE LIBRARY OF

MEINHOLD (WILLIAM).—Sidonia the Sorceress, by William Meinhold, translated by Francesca Speranza, Lady Wilde.

[Colophon]: Here ends the Story of Sidonia the Sorceress translated from the German of William Meinhold, by Francesca Speranza, Lady Wilde, and now reprinted by me, William Morris, 1893.

Folio, vellum.

Only three hundred copies of this favourite book of Morris' were printed.

Special copy, having a label pasted inside the front cover, "Given by Mrs. William Morris in Memory of her Husband, 1897," and a sheet of Kelmscott Press note paper, inscribed, "With Mrs. Morris' Compliments." William Morris' autograph on part of a cheque is also inserted.

MORE (SIR THOMAS).—Utopia. Written by Sir Thomas More.

PSALMI PENITENTIALES.

[Colophon]: Thus ends the rhymed version of the Penitential Psalms found in a Manuscript of Horæ Beatae Mariæ-Virginis, written at Gloucester about the year 1440, and now transcribed and edited by F. S. Ellis.

Printed by William Morris. 1894.

8vo, half holland.

Only three hundred copies printed in black and red.

From a manuscript written at Gloucester in the first half of the fifteenth century, but the Rev. Professor Skeat has pointed out that the scribe must have copied them from an older manuscript, as they are in the Kentish dialect of about a century earlier.

SHELLEY (PERCY BYSSHE).—The Poetical Works of Percy Bysshe Shelley.

[Colophon]: Overseen by F. S. Ellis after the text of foregoing Editions, & printed by me, William Morris, at the Kelmscott Press. . . . 1894 [1895].

8vo, three volumes, vellum.

A fine copy, with coloured plates and a map.

KILLIGREW (THOMAS).—Comedies and Tragedies. Written by Thomas Killigrew, Page of Honour to King Charles the First. And Groom of the Bed-Chamber to King Charles the Second.

London: Printed for Henry Herringman. 1664.

Folio, full crimson morocco, gilt back and borders, edges gilt on the rough, by Francis Bedford.

The First Edition, with separate titles to all the plays bearing the date 1663 (excepting "Clarcilla," which has a duplicate title of "The Prisoners," dated 1664). The rare portrait of Killigrew, with his dog, is by William Faithorne after W. Sheppard, and is a brilliant impression of Faithorne's engraving.

The margins of this copy are exceptionally broad. Contains both the Lefferts and the Halsey bookplates.

KIPLING (RUDYARD).—(Printed for private circulation only.) Schoolboy Lyrics. By Rudyard Kipling.

Lahore: Printed at the "Civil and Military Gazette" Press. 1881.

12mo, full dark green crushed levant morocco, gilt top, uncut.

The First Edition, with additional pages of manuscript copied in by a previous owner, of Kipling's later verses.

This is actually Kipling's first book, although he himself gives that honor to the "Departmental Ditties." At the time the book was printed, Kipling had not yet completed his sixteenth year, and was still in England at the United Service College. This little volume was, however, printed by his parents in India. Probably only fifty copies were issued.

KIPLING (RUDYARD).—The Smith Administration.

Allahabad, 1881.

8vo, original paper wrappers, uncut.

The First Edition of the scarcest of Kipling's books. Only four other copies are known, this being the only one with the full number of pages (seven) of advertisements. The contents were gathered from periodicals without the author's permission, and the publication was suppressed before it was issued for sale.

KIPLING (RUDYARD).—Echoes. By Two Writers.

Lahore [1884].

12mo, original wrappers, uncut.

The First Edition of this exceedingly rare little book. It was written by Kipling and his sister Beatrice, and contains for the most part imitations of the modern English poets.

KIPLING (RUDYARD).—Quartette. The Christmas Annual of the "Civil and Military Gazette." By Four Anglo-Indian Writers.

Lahore, 1885.

8vo, original front wrapper, uncut.

The First Edition, containing the advertisements. The four writers were Rudyard Kipling, his father, mother, and sister, Beatrice.

KIPLING (RUDYARD).—Departmental Ditties and Other Verses.

Lahore, 1886.

Narrow 8vo, each leaf printed on one side only, original wrappers, with flap, uncut.

The First Edition, containing twenty-six poems. It was printed from the type as set for the newspaper columns, which vary in length. One of the scarcest of the Kipling books, and very rarely found with the outside flap. This flap contains a circular engraved in imitation of a seal, which was not reproduced on the cover of the reprint recently issued.

CATALOGUE OF THE LIBRARY OF

KIPLING (RUDYARD).—The School Budget.
Horsmonden, Kent, 1898. Numbers 13 and 14.

16mo, original wrappers, uncut.

In response to a "cheeky" letter from the editors, Kipling wrote a very amusing epistle of advice, which has since become familiar to most admirers of the author. No. 13 contains the text of this letter, with comments on the contributor. No. 14 boasts of the original appearance of Max Beerbohm's well-known caricature of Kipling. With the above copy are the originals of these contributions. There is the A. L. S. from Kipling in reply, and the letters from the editors, B. Medhurst and G. Chinnery. The original pen-and-ink sketch by Beerbohm, and the A. L. S. from Beerbohm accompanying the drawing.

LA FONTAINE (JEAN DE).—Contes et Nouvelles en Vers, par M. de la Fontaine.

Amsterdam (Paris), 1762.

8vo, two volumes, full lemon crushed levant morocco, sides and back covered with mosaics of blue and gold exquisitely tooled, doublures of peacock blue levant morocco, wide rose-coloured borders with design of roses tooled in gold, and flowered silk fly-leaves, gilt, by Joly Fils.

Contains portraits of La Fontaine, engraved by Fiequet after Rigaud, of Eisen by Fiequet after Vispre, and of Choffard by himself; and eighty fine plates by Aliamet, Baquoy, Choffard, Delafosse, Flipart, Lemire, Leveau, de Longueil and Ouvrier, after Eisen.

The famous edition called "Des Fermiers Generaux," one of the most beautiful illustrated books of the eighteenth century. With brilliant impressions of the plates, and having the two, "Cas de Conscience" and "Diable de Papefiguière" in the uncovered state. This book is pronounced Eisen's and Choffard's masterpiece.

The vignettes and tail-pieces are all by Choffard. The introduction was written by Diderot.

MILTON (JOHN, AND OTHERS).—Justa / Edovardo King / naufrago, / ab / Amicis mœrentibus, / amoris & μνείας χαριν Sirectè calculum ponas, ubique naufragium est. / Pet. Arb.

Cantabrigiæ: Apud Thomam Buck, & Rogerum Daniel, celeberrimæ Academiae typographos. 1638.

4to, full olive green crushed levant morocco, elaborately tooled au pointillé, gilt.

Collation: A-D, in fours; E, six leaves; F-12, in fours. As originally printed, E comprised only four leaves, but it being discovered that an additional set of Latin verses had been omitted, they were printed on an extra sheet of two leaves (the first marked E4), which was inserted between E3 and the original E4.

The First Edition. The occasion of this collection of verses was the drowning of Edward King during his passage from Chester in 1637, when the ship was lost in the Irish Sea and several of the passengers perished. The verses were written in love and remembrance by his sorrowing friends. The last piece in the book entitled "Lyceidas" and signed with the initials "J. M.," is by John Milton, and this is its first appearance in print.

MILTON (JOHN).—Poems / of / Mr. John Milton, / Both / English and Latin, / Compos'd at severall times. / Printed by his true Copies. / The Songs were fet in Mufick by / Mr. Henry Lawes Gentleman of / the Kings Chappel, and one / of His Maiesties / Private Mufick./ Baccare frontem / Cingite, ne vati noceat mala lingua futuro, / Virgil, Eclog. 7. / Printed and publilh'd according to / Order.

figne of the Princes / Arms in S. Pauls Church-yard, 1645.

Svo, contemporary sheep, uncut.

Collation: A, four leaves; A-H4, in eights; A-F4, in eights.

The first collected edition of Milton's poems, bearing his name in full for the first time. The frontispiece portrait by Marshall is the first published of Milton, ætat. 21, with a Greek inscription, intended by the poet as a satire on Marshall for representing him as older. Translated, it reads:

"Will anyone say that this portrait was the work of an ingenious hand; my very friends, looking at mine own natural countenance, know not whom it represents, but laugh at the awkward imitation of the idiotic artist."

There are two varieties of title-page, with imprimatur containing "S. Pauls" or "Pauls." There is nothing to show priority, except that "S. Pauls" is rarer. The two parts of the volume have separate pagination, with a separate title in Latin for the second part.

This volume contains all the poems written by Milton up to the date of its publication. Excepting "Lycidas," "Comus," and the epitaph on Shakespeare, all the pieces were here printed for the first time.

This copy contains the bookplate of Edwd. Carleton Arundel. On the fly-leaf is written "Edwd. Carleton 1738."

Matthew Simmons, next dore to the gilded / Lyon in Alderfgate street. 1649.

4to, full vellum gilt, edges entirely uncut.

Collation: One leaf without signature; B-Z and Aa-Ii, in fours; Kk, two leaves. Title, as above, printed in black and red, one leaf (verso blank). "The Preface," B1-C1. The work, C2-Kk2.

The First Edition. This work, as the title indicates, was written in answer to the book entitled ΕΙΚΩΝ ΒΑΣΙΛΙΚΗ', believed at the time to have been written by Charles I, though John Gauden was probably its author. After the Restoration it was ordered by the House of Commons, on June 16, 1660, to be burned by the common hangman, together with the "Defensio Pro Populo Anglicano," by the same author.

fours.

The First Issue of the First Edition. There were eight distinct issues of the first edition. This is the first with the first title, according to Masson, and is a particularly large copy, measuring seven and two-sixteenths by five and two-sixteenths inches.

CATALOGUE OF THE LIBRARY OF

To insure a copy being of the first issue, the following points are necessary: The title is the only preliminary leaf; and as regards the text, the penultimate line of Book III is "Throws his steep flight with many an aerie wheele." In the later issues, "with" was altered to "in." In the first four issues of the title-page, though printed in two separate years, the first, second, third and fifth lines were printed from the same type, each containing the slight nick in the top of the long "s" in "Paradise," and the cut in the lower part of the "B" in "Books."

On the fly-leaf is written "John Dillon 1864" and on the verso of this leaf, "Joyce Sawyer Jan; ye 3rd 1732."

MILTON (JOHN).—Paradise Regain'd. / A Poem. / In IV Books. / To which is added / Samson Agonistes. / The Author / John Milton. / London, / Printed by J. M. for John Starkey at the / Mitre in Fleet fstreet, near Temple-Bar. / MDCLXXI.

8vo, full morocco, edges entirely uncut, by Rivière.

Collation: A, two leaves; B-O, in eights; P, four leaves.

The First Edition. The first two leaves (License and Title) and the last leaf (Errata) have been most skilfully enlarged. Otherwise the copy is in an uncut state throughout.

MILTON (JOHN).—Poems, &c. / Upon / Several Occasions. / By / Mr. John Milton: / Both English and Latin, &c. / Compos'd at several times. / With a small Tractate of / Education / To Mr. Hartlib.

London, / Printed for Tho. Dring at the Blew Anchor / next Mitre Court over against Fetter / Lane in Fleet-ftreet. 1673.

8vo, full dark red crushed levant morocco, richly tooled sides and back, inside dentelles, by Roger de Coverly.

Collation: A, four leaves; A-S, in eights.

The Second Edition. In addition to all that were published in the first edition of 1645, this contains a number of poems printed here for the first time. The tract "Of Education. To Mr. Hartlib" was first published as a separate piece in 1644.

The book also occurs with the following variation in the imprint: "London, Printed for Tho. Dring at the White Lion next Chancery Lane End, in Fleet-ftreet. 1673."

MISSAL [Printed].—Missale Juxta Ritum Ecclesie Romane.

Paris, 1555.

8vo, three volumes, half morocco, marbled edges.

NORDENSKIOLD (A. E.).—Facsimile Atlas to the Early History of Cartography, with Reproductions of the Most Important Maps Printed in the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Centuries; with English Text Rendered from the Swedish by Elelof and Clements R. Markham. Vol. I.

Stockholm, 1889.

Folio, half morocco.

This work contains fifty-one large maps and eighty-four of a smaller size, reproducing the rarest and most important maps printed in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries.

A scientific work of great value on the subject of cartography. Jomard and Santarem produced a somewhat imperfect volume of an "Illustrated History of Cartography," treating irregularly upon the manuscript sources; Nordenskiöld's Atlas might be called the complete second volume dealing with the entire printed or engraved material. It is indispensable as furnishing by far the best material for studying the growth of geographical science, and the gradual increase of our knowledge of the surface of the globe.

NUREMBERG CHRONICLE. [SCHEDEL (HARTMANN.)]—Registrum / huius Ope- / ris Libri Cro- / nicarum / cū figuris et ymagi- / bus ab inico mūdi.

Nuremberg: Anthonius Koberger, 1493.

Folio, full dark brown crushed levant morocco, gilt, by Stikeman.

Collation: twenty unnumbered leaves, leaves I to CCLXVI (1-266), six unnumbered leaves (the sixth blank), leaves CCLXVII to CCC (267-300).

The First Edition. With upwards of two thousand woodcuts by Wohlgemuth and Pleydenwurff, including numerous large views of many celebrated genealogical trees, maps, etc. Printed in Gothic type.

Among the woodcuts are remarkable the portrait of Pope Joan, which is often mutilated, but perfect in this copy; a Dance of Death, a Map of the World, and a large Map of Europe. Michael Wolgemuth, one of the designers of the woodcuts, was the master of Albrecht Dürer.

On the verso of 1-290 is a brief account of the Portuguese voyage of discovery along the coast of Africa in 1483 (1484), under the direction of Diego Lam and Martin Beham of Nuremberg, which has been used as a basis for the unwarranted theory that the expedition reached America.

This is a fine large copy, measuring seventeen and six-eighths by eleven and seven-eighths inches, and having the six leaves "de Sarmatia," and the four blank leaves; of these one is the last of the unfoliated supplement of "de Sarmatia," and other three are foliated, CCLVIII, CCLX, CCLXI, and were left blank, so that posterity, down to the end of the sixth age of the world, might be able to add notes and remarks. The Colophon is on the verso of the last leaf.

“New York—May 21. My Dear Mr. Willis, Seeing that you, now and then, published Original Papers in the ‘New Mirror,’ I have ventured to send you a Tale and an Essay for consideration. If you could afford me anything for them, or for either of them, I would feel highly honored by their appearance in your paper. I have long been exceedingly anxious to make the acquaintance of the author of ‘Melanie,’ and, more especially, of a little poem entitled ‘Unseen Spirits,’ and would have called upon you personally, but that I am ill in health and wretchedly depressed in spirits. By and bye I will try and find you at the office of the ‘Mirror.’ Will you please reply, at your leisure, through the P. Office? Should you not be able to accept the articles, I would be obliged if you would retain them until I see you. Yours with the highest respect, Edgar A. Poe. N. P. Willis Esqre.” Addressed on the back of the sheet in Poe’s writing: “N. P. Willis Esqre. Office of the ‘New-Mirror’ New-York.”

London: / Printed for W. Davis, MDCLXXXVII.

4to, full straight grain morocco, gilt, by The Club Bindery.

The First Edition, and a fine large copy with nearly all leaves uncut.

Prior's first publication, written while a student at Cambridge. This work is a satire directed against Dryden's "The Hind and the Panther," and it occasioned him great annoyance. Although Montagu's name is always associated with Prior's in the authorship, it is probable that he wrote the Preface only.

Embellished with twenty-nine spirited plates, all in colour, by Thomas Rowlandson, after designs by H. Bunbury.

London, 1809.

8vo, full calf, gilt.

The First Issue of this Edition, and a fine tall copy, with the two leaves containing the notice by the editor, one to each part. The plates for this edition were all re-engraved, in 1808, and are so dated, although the work was not published until 1809.

RUSKIN (JOHN).—The Stones of Venice. Volume the First. The Foundations. By John Ruskin. [Two Lines.] With Illustrations Drawn by the Author.

London: Smith, Elder & Co., 65 Cornhill. 1851-[1853].

8vo, three volumes, half morocco, marbled edges.

The First Edition and Lewis Carroll's copy with his name written on the title-page of each volume. The plates and cuts, made by various processes, mezzotinting, lithography, line engraving, and woodcutting, mark most clearly the advance in bookmaking which had taken place within the half century. In later editions the plates were re-engraved.

RUSKIN (JOHN). Works. Edited by E. T. Cook and Alexander Wedderburn.

London, 1903-1912.

8vo, thirty-nine volumes, cloth, uncut.

With fifteen hundred illustrations.

Complete Authorized Library Edition, containing many articles which have never before been published. This edition will probably never be superseded as the standard edition. The illustrations include one hundred drawings by Ruskin never before published.

Printed at London by Tho. Cotes, and are / to be sold by Iohn Benson, dwelling in / St. Dunstons Church-yard, 1640.

*16mo, original sheep, with contemporary calf

The First Edition, and a very tall copy, measuring five and a half by three and five-eighths inches. Only five other perfect copies have been sold at auction in the last twenty-five years.

Contains on the fifth leaf of the volume a second title-page, identical with the first except for the omission of the date. This is frequently missing. It is preceded by two prefatory poems by John Warren and Leonard Digges, the latter being a most valuable contribution to our knowledge concerning Shakespeare and his plays, showing that his dramas always brought crowded houses while Ben Jonson's "Volpone"—the most popular of all dramatic works by others than Shakespeare—sometimes scarcely defrayed the "sea-coale fire and doore-keepers."

The last eleven leaves are occupied by "An Addition of some excellent Poems, to Those Precedent, of renowned Shakespeare, by other Gentlemen." These are by Ben Jonson, Francis Beaumont, John Milton, Robert Herrick, and others.

The only collected edition of Shakespeare's poems that was published during the seventeenth century.

SHAKESPEARE (WILLIAM).—The Complete Dramatic Works of William Shakespeare.

London: William Pickering, 1826.

12mo, full crushed levant morocco, inlaid and tooled in gold, watered silk doublures and flies, by Rivière.

The famous Pickering edition of Shakespeare's Works, profusely illustrated with miniature steel plates beautifully engraved. A fine specimen of the binder's and printer's art, bound after a Charles the Second period binding.

SHAKESPEARE (WILLIAM).—The Works of: The Cambridge Text from the latest edition of William Aldis Wright; with Introduction, Notes and Glossaries to each Play by Israel Gollancz. The Complete Notes with Variorum Readings and General Glossary of Alexander Dyce; a General Introduction and Life of the Poet, by W. J. Rolfe, and a History of the Drama, and General Criticism by Henry N. Hudson and Others.

[Boston]: Dana Estes & Co., 1901.

8vo, twenty-four volumes, three-quarters crimson crushed levant morocco, gilt top, uncut.

The New Century Edition de Luxe.

SHELLEY (PERCY BYSSHE).—Queen Mab; / A / Philosophical Poem: / With Notes. / By Percy Bysshe Shelley. /

London: / Printed by P. B. Shelley, / 23, Chapel Street, Grosvenor Square, / 1813.

8vo, full morocco, gilt top, uncut, by Rivière.

The First Edition, and extremely rare with the title-page, dedication "To Harriet ," and Shelley's imprint at the end, all of which are usually lacking.

The book was privately printed and never intended for anything but private circulation. After his separation from Harriet Westbrook, Shelley tore out the dedication, title and imprint, in the copies that remained undistributed. The notes also excited persecution of the author. Very few copies are found intact.

SHERIDAN (RICHARD BRINSLEY).—The Rivals. A Comedy. As it is Acted at the Theatre-Royal in Covent-Garden.

London: Printed for John Wilkie, No. 71 St. Paul's Church-yard, 1775.

8vo, marbled calf.

The First Edition and a tall copy. Contains the rare half-title, the Prologue and the Epilogue, also the leaf of "Errata" on verso of which is the "Dramatis Personæ," including Quick, Lewes, Mrs. Bulkley, and others. Sometimes the Prologue is bound at the end, the catchword calling for it. In this case it is bound in its proper place, after the text.

SHERIDAN (RICHARD BRINSLEY).—The Rivals.

Another copy, and perfect, though smaller.

Full morocco, by Rivière.

SHERIDAN (RICHARD BRINSLEY).—Verses to the Memory of Garrick. Spoken as a Monody at the Theatre Royal in Drury Lane, By R. B. Sheridan.

London, 1779.

4to, original boards, uncut.

The First Edition, containing the half-title. The frontispiece is engraved by Albanesi after Louthembourg.

SHERIDAN (RICHARD BRINSLEY).—The Critic: or, A Tragedy Rehearsed. A Dramatic Piece in Three Acts, as it is Performed at the Theatre Royal, in Drury Lane.

London: Printed for T. Becket, 1781.

8vo, sewn.

The First Edition and a Presentation Copy, with "From the Author" on verso of title. Vignette on title.

This is the generally accepted First Edition, although there is a copy in the British Museum dated 1780. A portion of the first edition consisted of ninety-eight pages (like the above copy). Both are exactly the same up to page eighty. It is not known whether Sheridan contracted the play by two pages, or extended it by two, although the former has generally been considered the first edition.

SHERIDAN (RICHARD BRINSLEY).—A Trip to Scarborough. A Comedy. As Performed at the Theatre Royal in Drury Lane. Altered from Vanbrugh's Relapse; or, Virtue in Danger.

London, MDCCLXXXI.

8vo, full morocco, gilt top, uncut.

The First Edition, with the half-title and the Prologue, written by David Garrick.

SHERIDAN (RICHARD BRINSLEY).—The School for Scandal. A Comedy; As it is Acted at the Theatre Royal in Drury Lane.

Dublin: Printed in the Year, 1782.

8vo, full red crushed levant morocco, gold panelled sides, inside borders, uncut, by Birdsall.

The First Edition, very rare in an uncut condition, and published anonymously. This copy lacks the leaf of Errata on verso of the last leaf, but contains the Epilogue, and the London cast. There is a record of the sale of a copy dated "1781." The British Museum copy has a final blank leaf. Bound in at the end is a page numbered 339-340, entitled "The American Negociator," having the value of sterling reduced to Irish money, and vice versa.

SIDDONS (SARAH).—The Life of Mrs. Siddons. By Thomas Campbell.

London: Effingham Wilson . . . 1834.

8vo, two volumes, full citron crushed levant morocco, back and sides elaborately tooled in the manner of Dérome, gilt on the rough, by David.

Extra-illustrated by the insertion of one hundred and eighty-six portraits, etc., including forty-one portraits of Mrs. Siddons, a brilliant mezzotint of E. Kean, coloured portrait of Kynaston, and a water-colour drawing of Glasgow Cathedral. A large number of the plates are in proof state. The collection of portraits of Mrs. Siddons is very extensive, and many are of great rarity.

SIDDONS (SARAH).—The Life of Mrs. Siddons. By Thomas Campbell.

London: Effingham, Wilson . . . 1834.

8vo, two volumes, extended to four, full red morocco, gilt.

William Upcott's copy, containing in addition to the portrait of Mrs. Siddons, by Lupton after Sir Thomas Lawrence, two hundred and fourteen portraits, of which sixty are of Mrs. Siddons, including the oval by Ogborn after Harding, in two states, red (proof) and black, and the "Grecian Daughter," by Trotter after Lawrence. Autographs and letters of Mrs. Bracegirdle, Henry and Cecilia Siddons, E. Carll, Thomas Davies, the Duchess of Devonshire, and many others have been inserted. Also several Bills of the Play, 1766, etc., a "pass" to the gallery, written by Sarah Siddons, a water-colour drawing of the actress' home at Westbourne and a sepia drawing of her tomb at Paddington Church, together with a number of contemporary newspaper announcements, etc.

SIDNEY (SIR PHILIP).—The Comtesse / of Pembrokes / Arcadia. / Written by Sir / Philippe / Sidnei. /

London, / Printed for William Ponfonbie. / Anno Domini, 1590.

Small 4to, full crushed levant morocco, gilt on the rough, special tooling, by Rivière.

Collation: A-Vz, in eights.

The First Edition, and one of the rarest books in the English language, not over six perfect copies being known. This copy has the title, dedication, and two leaves in facsimile, and contains the rare blank leaf before the title, usually missing. There is a slight difference in the imprint of the title-page in some copies, most of them reading "Printed by John Windet for William Ponsonbie." Only two or three copies are known with the imprint omitting Windet's name, as in this case.

When Queen Elizabeth visited Sidney with her displeasure in 1580, he withdrew to his sister's, the Countess of Pembroke. There he wrote the "Arcadia," said to have been suggested by the "Arcadia" of Sanzarro, a Neapolitan poet.

The influence of this romance on contemporary literature was remarkable. Among Sidney's imitators were Shakespeare, Spenser, Beaumont and Fletcher.

This copy contains many signatures and scribbings in contemporary handwriting.

SPENSER (EDMUND).—Colin Clovts / Come Home Again. / By Ed. Spencer. /

London / Printed for VVilliam Ponsonbie. / 1595.

Small 4to, full dark green morocco, gilt, by Bedford.

Collation: A-K, in fours.

The First Edition, a perfect copy from the Locker-Lampson Library. Of special interest, as it contains a note in Locker-Lampson's handwriting on the fly-leaf. This note refers to Spenser's reference to Shakespeare, under the name of "Aetion," in signature C2: "Aetion refers to Shakespeare, no other heroic poet had a name of heroic sound. Jonson, Fuller, and Bancroft have similar allusions to his name." There is another note opposite signature B2.

The Dedication, "From my house of Kilcolman, the 27 of December, 1591," is to Sir Walter Raleigh, "the Ocean Shepherd" of the poem. A volume of interest, containing the first edition of Spenser's lament on the Death of Sir Philip Sidney, his beautiful "Astrophel." Among the names of the characters in the poem are Mary, Countess of Pembroke, Countess of Huntingdon, Lady Price, Sir Philip Sidney, etc.

STEVENSON (ROBERT LOUIS).—A Bibliography of the Works of Robert Louis Stevenson by Colonel W. F. Prideaux, C.S.I. A New and Revised Edition. Edited and Supplemented by Mrs. Luther S. Livingston.

London: Frank Hollings, 7 Great Turnstile, Holborn, MCMXVII.

8vo, cloth, gilt top, uncut.

The latest and most authoritative bibliography, illustrated with portrait and facsimiles.

STEVENSON (ROBERT LOUIS).—Original Manuscript Preface of "Memories and Portraits," with three autograph letters concerning the arrangement, correction and publication of the work.

Inlaid to 4to, full green crushed levant morocco, by Sangorski and Sutcliffe.

The volume consists of: Two pages of introduction, handprinted in red and black; The "Preface" in Stevenson's handwriting, of one page, signed "R. L. S."; a typewritten copy of the latter, one page. Two-page manuscript letter to Messrs. Chatto and Windus, from Skerryvore, Bournemouth, August 2d, (1887), concerning an enclosure for volume two of the "Familiar Essays," with a typewritten copy. Another two-page letter from Bournemouth, (August 15, 1887), signed in full. Typewritten copy also. One-page letter to the publishers from "Newport, R. I., but address c/o Scribner's Sons, 743 Broadway, New York," and signed in full.

STEVENSON (ROBERT LOUIS).—Original Autograph Manuscript Signed of "Our Lady of the Snows."

4to, three pages, full green morocco, gilt.

This poem first appeared in The Independent of March 3, 1887, and was later reprinted in "Underwoods," xxiii.

STEVENSON (ROBERT LOUIS).—Autograph Letter Signed. To Philip Gilbert Hamerton. La Solitude, Hyères-les Palmiers, Var, n. d.

Svo, eight pages.

“My dear Hamerton, I have been in a crazy state as I should long ago have answered your kind letter. I have not been able to read at all, or to but write a little, for ever so long; my eyes having played me a trick. In short I am one of the handsomest wrecks upon the shore of literature. However, we keep the galley-fire alight and beat to quarters daily, as though she still ploughed the main full charged with England’s thunder. If you come south, do give us a visit. We cannot take you into the house for reasons best known to the architect. But we should be so pleased to see you and Mrs. Hamerton, or yourself alone, and we could talk to you, and give you some dinner, and find a room for you within hail. This is to be thought of: and if not now, then after, to be put ruthlessly in act. I think it not unlikely that I may fall on you this year; but all hangs upon my health, whose squirrel-like evolutions supplies me with unfailing entertainment. How little are we grateful to the gods! The invalid-bore, that well-known person with the symptoms, is a most beautiful instance of the kindly compensations of our destiny. I somewhat envy you your writing; I shall never be in a boat again, nor yet in a theatre, I fear; a short walk, a long talk—these are what is left me, and very good things, too, at least the talk. For a short walk, with definite limits, is against the very genius of walking. The amusement is either to ramble or to travel. New views, another hill-top, just down yon dingle—ha! but another wood, I must go so far! That is the spirit of the walker; and how can he attain to this in the square half-mile around his house, much of it visible perhaps from his windows. Well, we have adjusting eyes and an adjustable mind. We change the sliding scale of fancy; and in my mile-long walks, I have at times got into so rich a vein of self-deception, that I had visited empires and continents when I returned. Life is the art of self-deception—is that new or old? I am a great self-deceiver; and a more valuable quality, I know not.

Pray remember me kindly to yours, my dear Hamerton, Yours very sincerely, Robert Louis Stevenson.”

page 35, Part I, of "subsidiues" for "subsidiies," and Vol. II, page 165, Part IV, of the headline "ehe" for "the."

The portrait is not in the earliest state, as the inscription should be under, instead of around the oval, only two copies of which are known. The inscription is in Latin instead of in English. This copy has the eight preliminary leaves, A1-8 instead of six.

SWINBURNE (ALGERNON CHARLES).—Poems and Ballads.

London: Edward Moxon & Co., 1866.

12mo, full olive crushed levant morocco, with gold inlay, by Cobden Sanderson of the Doves Bindery.

The First Edition, suppressed by the publishers on account of the storm of abuse levelled at it on its appearance. Only a few copies found their way into circulation.

It contains the two verses in small type on page 222, and has the proper "Moxon" title-page, also the misprint on page 314, of "face" for "pace," and the eight pages of advertisements.

SWINBURNE (ALGERNON CHARLES).—A Song of Italy.

London: John Camden Hotten, Piccadilly, 1867.

12mo, full green crushed levant morocco, sides elaborately tooled in red and gold, by Rivière.

The First Edition, with the half-title and eight pages of advertisements in back numbered, and eight unnumbered.

SWINBURNE (ALGERNON CHARLES).—Dolores.

London: Hotten, 1867.

12mo, twenty-three pages, in original sheets, uncut.

The First Edition, printed for private circulation only, and in an exceedingly small number. It has no cover and has not been stitched.

SWINBURNE (ALGERNON CHARLES).—The Devil's Due. A Letter to the Editor of "The Examiner." By Thomas Maitland, 1875.

For Private Circulation. [London, 1875.]

8vo, eleven pages, in sheets as issued.

This pamphlet was rigidly suppressed in consequence of the unexpected result of the action for libel brought by Mr. Robert Buchanan against Mr. P. A. Taylor, M.P., the Proprietor of "The Examiner," where it likewise appeared.

SWINBURNE (ALGERNON CHARLES).—Mary Stuart. A Tragedy.

London, 1881.

12mo, original cloth, uncut.

The First Edition.

SWINBURNE (ALGERNON CHARLES).—The Question, MDCCCLXXXVII. A Poem.

London: Charles Ottley & Co., 1887.

12mo, original wrappers, uncut.

The First Edition, of which only twenty-five copies are said to have been printed. "This poem was dropped by its author, and is not included in any of Mr. Swinburne's collected volumes; and, considering the controversial nature of the subject treated, it is in the highest degree improbable that it will ever be revived. It contains some bitter verses addressed to Mr. Gladstone." (Wise).

SWINBURNE (ALGERNON CHARLES).—A Word for the Navy. A Poem.

London: Charles Ottley, Landon & Co., 1887.

12mo, original wrappers, uncut.

The First Edition, only twenty-five copies being printed, and which has become exceedingly rare. This is the issue of March, 1887. It was re-issued by the same publishers in August of that year, and again by Redway.

SWINBURNE (ALGERNON CHARLES).—Atalanta in Calydon.

See Kelmscott Press.

SWINBURNE (ALGERNON CHARLES).—Autograph Manuscript of "A Lamentation," unsigned.

Inlaid to small folio size, five sheets of blue paper, together with the printed version, a specially printed title-page in red and black on Japan paper, and a portrait, the whole bound in full crushed levant morocco, by Stikeman.

The poem was printed in "Poems and Ballads," 1866, and the manuscript consists of one hundred and twenty-six lines, with numerous corrections and many variations from the printed version.

"Who hath known the ways of time
Or trodden behind his feet
There is no such man among men
For chance overcomes him, or time
Changes; for all things sweet
In time wax bitter again."

The line "The hand is feeble, etc.," is unpublished.

SWINBURNE (ALGERNON CHARLES).—Autograph Manuscript of "The Bride's Tragedy."

Folio, four pages of manuscript with the First Published Edition of the poem, inlaid to size and bound in full morocco.

The manuscript consists of twenty stanzas, with many corrections.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Poems, By Two Brothers. "Haec nos novimus esse nihil"—Martial.

London: Printed for W. Simpkin and R. Marshall . . . and J. and J. Jackson, Louth, 1827.

12mo, original boards, with paper label, uncut.

The First Edition. The extremely rare first appearance in book form of Lord Tennyson's poems. An immaculate copy.

All three brothers, Alfred, Charles and Frederick, contributed to it, but, it is said, bound themselves never to reveal who wrote this or that piece. After Lord Tennyson's death, his son Hallam, with Frederick, one of the brothers, endeavored to determine the respective authorships, and decided that, of the one hundred and three poems, forty-two were by Alfred, forty-eight by Charles, three by Frederick, and the remainder doubtful. The brothers were only schoolboys at the time the book was published, and obtained twenty pounds for the copyright, which, however, was only on the condition that it be taken out in books. None of the poems were ever reprinted by Lord Tennyson.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Timbuctoo: Pro-lusiones Academicæ, etc. A Poem, which obtained the Chancellor's Medal at the Cambridge Commencement, 1829. By A. Tennyson, of Trinity College.

8vo, full red morocco.

The First Edition. The correct reading of line nine, page twelve, is only found in this edition. Arthur Hallam was one of the unsuccessful competitors for the prize won by Tennyson.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Poems, Chiefly Lyrical.

London: Effingham Wilson, Royal Exchange, Cornhill, 1830.

12mo, full brown morocco, gilt top, uncut.

The First Edition of Tennyson's first book with his name on the title-page. With the leaf of Errata. Page ninety-nine is mis-numbered nineteen. The word "carcenet", page seventy-one, is correctly printed. Thomas J. Wise's bibliography mentions only four copies with these errors.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Poems. By Alfred Tennyson.

London: Edward Moxon, 64, New Bond Street. MDCCCXXXIII.

12mo, original boards, paper label, uncut.

The First Edition. A perfect copy containing the page of advertisement. This edition consisted of four hundred and fifty copies.

The famous "O Darling Room" volume. This poem with several others never appeared in any later edition, while others were very considerably altered. It was fallen upon by the critics mercilessly, and the author's excisions and alterations showed that he had good sense in addition to poetical ability, when the next collected edition appeared.

This, being Tennyson's second volume of verse, contains for the first time among its thirty poems, "The Lady of Shalott," "The Miller's Daughter," "The Palace of Art," "The May Queen," "The Lotus Eaters," and a "Dream of Fair Women"; also the retort to Christopher North on his criticism of Tennyson's first volume, a retort which Tennyson afterwards refers to as a "silly squib," and the sonnet on Buonaparte.

This is the volume of which Arthur Hallam wrote while it was in the publisher's hands: "Moxon is in ecstasies with the May Queen; he says the volume must make a great sensation."

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Poems. By Alfred Tennyson.

London: Edward Moxon, 64, New Bond Street, MDCCCXXXIII.

(With)

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—The Lover's Tale. By Alfred Tennyson.

London: Edward Moxon, 64, New Bond Street, MDCCCXXXIII.

12mo, two volumes in one, full green morocco, gilt.

The First Edition of "Poems."

The First Trial Edition of "The Lover's Tale," of which only six copies were printed, and only two others are known, one owned by Mr. T. J. Wise of London, and the other by Mr. J. A. Spoor of Chicago. This copy is far superior in condition to Mr. Spoor's and equal to Mr. Wise's in size.

"The Lover's Tale" of 1833 is the earliest in order of date of the series of Tennyson's trial books. Probably with the sole exception of Shelley's "Necessity of Atheism" and "Original Poetry by Victor and Cazire," it is the most interesting and valuable first edition in English nineteenth century literature. Written in 1828, in the autumn of 1832, the first two parts were set up in type, accompanied by the thirty other pieces which eventually formed the "Poems" of 1833. Before the sheets were printed, Tennyson concluded that "The Lover's Tale" was in need of more thorough revision. He then withdrew it from the thirty sets of minor verses, and reserved it for publication at some future date.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Poems. By Alfred Tennyson.

London: Edward Moxon, 64, New Bond Street. MDCCCXXXIII.

12mo, full calf, uncut.

The First Edition, with many manuscript corrections in the handwriting of the author.

"The Palace of Art" contains most of the autograph changes. The eight lines of stanzas LII and LIII are almost entirely rewritten, six new lines being substituted. The revised readings are followed in later editions. This volume formerly belonged to William Haslam, an early and close friend of Keats, and his autograph "W. Haslam" appears on the back of the page of contents.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Morte D'Arthur; Dora; and Other Idyls. By Alfred Tennyson.

London: Edward Moxon, Dover Street. MDCCCXLII.

12mo, original leaves, without wrappers, uncut.

The First Edition, and the second of the series of Tennysonian "Trial Books."

CATALOGUE OF THE LIBRARY OF

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Poems. By Alfred Tennyson. In Two Volumes. Vol. I. [Vol. II.]

London: Edward Moxon, Dover Street, MD-CCCXLII.

16mo, two volumes, original boards, uncut, paper labels.

The First Edition, which consisted of eight hundred copies.

The second volume, with one exception, consists of the poems previously unpublished. The remaining poems, reprinted from the edition of 1833, were much altered, and seven new pieces were added to the first volume.

Vol. I contains, at pages 77-86, the whole of the proof sheets of "The Lady of Shalott." The numbering of the pages of the proofs, as well as the setting of the text and the composition of the poem, show great differences from the published text. The proofs show a number of corrections of a slight nature, by Spedding probably, but on page 76 of the proof (86 of published volume), Tennyson has added a whole line in his handwriting, and one word in another, and also cancelled a line.

There are also four proof pages of "Mariana in the South," showing variations and three slight alterations in Tennyson's handwriting, also the proof of the short poem "Circumstance."

These proofs came from James Spedding, the friend of Tennyson and also the reader of his poems. For a long time Tennyson rarely published anything without first having submitted it to Spedding.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Poems. By Alfred Tennyson. In Two Volumes. Vol. I (II.).

London: Edward Moxon, Dover Street. MD-CCCXLII.

16mo, two volumes, full red morocco, by Wood.

The First Edition.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—The Princess: A Medley.

London: Edward Moxon, 1847.

12mo, original cloth, uncut.

The First Edition. Frederick Locker-Lampson's copy with the Rowfant book-plate. The intercalated songs which did not appear until the third edition are here supplied in the handwriting of Locker-Lampson, except two which are proof sheets of a later edition, with corrections in Tennyson's handwriting.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—The Princess;
A Medley. By Alfred Tennyson.

London: Edward Moxon, Dover Street, MD-CCCXLVII.

12mo, full green morocco, gilt top, uncut, by Zaehnsdorf.

The First Edition, of which only two thousand copies were printed.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—In Memoriam.

London: Edward Moxon, Dover Street, 1850.

16mo, full blue morocco, gilt, with original covers bound in, by Rivière.

The First Edition. This is the first issue with the printer's errors, pages two, "the sullen tree" afterwards changed to "thee, sullen tree," and page one hundred and ninety-eight, "baseness" afterwards corrected to "bareness."

The writing of "In Memoriam" had been begun as far back as 1833, immediately after the death of young Arthur Henry Hallam, to whom this poem is a tribute.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—In Memoriam.
Tenth Edition.

London: Edward Moxon, Dover Street. 1861.

16mo.

Lewis Carroll's copy which he used in preparing his Index containing many pencil marks throughout. The Index is the First Edition, London, 1862.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Ode on the Death of the Duke of Wellington. By Alfred Tennyson, Poet Laureate.

London: Edward Moxon, Dover Street, 1852.

8vo, full morocco, gilt top, uncut, with the original wrappers bound in.

The First Edition.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Maud, and Other Poems. By Alfred Tennyson, D.C.L. Poet Laureate.

London: Edward Moxon, Dover Street. 1855.

16mo, original cloth, uncut.

The First Edition, with the eight pages of advertisements, dated August, 1855. Ten thousand copies were printed of this edition.

Tennyson's own copy, with his name on the title-page. It has been found, after exhaustive research and examination of a remarkable private collection of Tennysonianana (all of which are autographed), that books owned by Tennyson all have his autograph on the title-page, and are written with the word 'Tennyson' only, and all books that were presented by him have the signed presentation inscription in full on either the half-title or the fly-leaf.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Maud, and Other Poems. By Alfred Tennyson, D.C.L., Poet Laureate.

London: Edward Moxon, Dover Street, 1855.

16mo, full crimson crushed levant morocco, uncut, by Rivière.

The First Edition, and Tennyson's own copy, which he used in making revisions for a third edition. It contains numerous manuscript corrections and alterations, including many additional lines and stanzas, all in Tennyson's handwriting. From the Harry B. Smith library.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Maud, and Other Poems. By Alfred Tennyson, D.C.L., Poet Laureate.

London: Edward Moxon, Dover Street, 1855.

16mo, full green morocco, gilt, by De Sauty.

The First Edition.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Idylls of the King. By Alfred Tennyson, D.C.L., Poet Laureate. Flos Regum Arthurus. Joseph of Exeter.

London: Edward Moxon & Co., Dover Street, 1859.

16mo, full blue morocco, gilt top, uncut, by De Sauty.

The First Edition, with the imprint on reverse of title.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—The Sailor Boy. By Alfred Tennyson, D.C.L. Poet Laureate.

London: Emily Faithfull & Co., Victoria Press, 1861.

12mo, eight pages, original wrappers, uncut.

The First Issue of the First Edition, which consisted of only twenty-five copies, for the Author's use.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Helen's Tower. Stanzas by Lady Gifford, Clandeboye, and Ten Lines on Last Leaf, by Lord Tennyson.

Clandeboye: Privately printed [1861].

4to, original glazed wrappers, edges gilt.

The Tower which Tennyson's poem commemorates was erected by Lord Dufferin in memory of his mother. In a letter to Tennyson, September 24, 1861, he says in part: "Now there is only one thing wanting to make it a perfect little gem of architecture and decoration, and that is a 'voice.' It is now ten years since it was built, and all that time it has stood silent. Yet, if he chose, there is one person in the world able to endow it with this priceless gift, and by sending me some short distich for it, to crown it forever with a glory it cannot otherwise obtain, and render it a memorial of the personal friendship which its builder felt for the great poet of our age."

The book itself was printed in 1850 or 1851. As originally made up it seems to have consisted of four leaves, the last blank with an engraved title, printed separately on heavy paper, the whole enclosed in a glazed paper cover, with blank fly-leaf at back and front. The first leaf has printed on the recto in red and black, an inscription signed by "Catherine Hamilton," followed by the names of thirteen witnesses. Page 2 is blank. Pages 3 to 5 are filled by verses written by Lord Dufferin's mother and given to him when he came of age. Pages 6, 7 and 8 were blank. On receipt of Tennyson's verses, a new leaf seems to have been printed, with an inscription relative to the completion of the tower. Tennyson's verses are on verso of this leaf. The blank leaf at the end was cut out, and this new leaf mounted on the stub. In 1870 Dufferin had another leaf printed, containing a poem by Robert Browning. Tennyson's poem was first reprinted by him in "Tiresias" in 1885.

The present copy does not contain Browning's sonnet.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Ode for the Opening of the International Exhibition. By Alfred Tennyson, P.L., D.C.L.

London: Edward Moxon & Co., Dover Street, 1862.

16mo, full green morocco, gilt top, uncut, by Rivière.

The First Issue of the First Edition. One thousand copies were printed for sale at the Exhibition building. This has become one of the scarcest of Tennyson's pamphlets, as most of them were either lost or destroyed.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—A Welcome. By Alfred Tennyson, D.C.L., Poet Laureate.

London: Edward Moxon & Co., Dover Street, 1863.

16mo, full red morocco, gilt top, uncut, by Rivière.

The First Issue of the First Edition, of which only forty copies were printed. These lines were addressed to the Princess Alexandra of Denmark, on her arrival in England for her marriage to the Prince of Wales.

The poem was reprinted, with alterations and additions, in "Enoch Arden."

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—A Welcome. By Alfred, Lord Tennyson, D.C.L., Poet Laureate.

London: Edward Moxon & Co., Dover Street, 1863.

16mo, single folded sheet.

The First Edition.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Idylls of the Heart. By Alfred Tennyson, P.L., D.C.L.

London: Edward Moxon & Co., Dover Street, 1864.

16mo, full red morocco, gilt top, uncut, by Rivière.

The First Edition, and very scarce, as at the very last moment the title was changed to "Enoch Arden, etc." Copies with this title-page occur very infrequently, and are probably those presented to friends and reviewers.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Enoch Arden, etc. By Alfred Tennyson, D.C.L., Poet Laureate.

London: Edward Moxon & Co., Dover Street, 1864.

16mo, original cloth, uncut, with advertisements.

First Edition and a Presentation with the Author's autograph inscription, "From A. Tennyson."

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Enoch Arden, etc..

Full green morocco, gilt, by McClure, 1909.

Another copy.

CATALOGUE OF THE LIBRARY OF

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Lucretius. By Alfred Tennyson, Poet Laureate. Cambridge, Mass.

Printed for Private Circulation, 1868.

12mo, original cloth, uncut.

The First Edition, privately printed for his own use by J. T. F.(ields). This poem was published simultaneously in the United States and England in Every Saturday of Boston and Macmillan's Magazine of London. This copy contains a passage (enclosed in parenthesis on page twenty) which appears in the American magazine, but which was cancelled in the English periodical, after the advance sheets for the former had left the poet's hands.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—The Last Tournament. By Alfred Lord Tennyson, D.C.L., Poet Laureate.

Strahan & Co., 56, Ludgate Hill, London, 1871.

16mo, stitched and without wrappers.

Author's Private Edition, of which only twenty copies were printed. Later reprinted in "Gareth and Lynette," 1872.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—England and America in 1782. By Alfred Tennyson, D.C.L., Poet Laureate.

Strahan & Co., 56, Ludgate Hill, London, 1872.

16mo, stitched, without wrappers.

The First Edition. The poem was printed in the New York Ledger, January 6th, 1872, and was reprinted in London solely for copyright purposes. In this pamphlet there is a prose note, which has never been reprinted.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Gareth and Lynette, etc. By Alfred Tennyson, D.C.L., Poet Laureate.

The First Edition.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—The Falcon.

London: Printed for the Author, 1879.

12mo, original wrappers, uncut.

The First Edition, reprinted later, also privately, in "The Cup and the Falcon," and published in 1884 in a volume of the same name.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Becket, A Tragedy.

London, 1879.

12mo, full red morocco, by Rivière.

"Trial Edition," of which only four copies are known, and one of the four rarest of the privately printed plays.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Child-Songs. By Alfred Tennyson.

London: C. Kegan Paul & Co., 1 Paternoster Square, 1880.

16mo, stitched, without wrappers.

The First Edition, printed for copyright purposes only, and now become very scarce.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—The Cup.

London: Printed for the Author, 1881.

12mo, original wrappers, uncut.

The First Edition. This poem did not appear in general circulation until 1884, when it was reprinted in "The Cup and the Falcon." This is probably a stage edition, as the play was written for Ellen Terry and Henry Irving, who appeared in it one hundred and twenty-eight times.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—The Promise of May.

London: Printed for the Author, 1882.

12mo, original wrappers, uncut.

The First "Trial" Edition, and one of the rarest privately printed pamphlets. The play was produced at the Globe Theatre in 1882, and although it had a run of several weeks, it was practically and deservedly damned by the "pit" on the first night.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Sung by Mr. Santley. Hands All Round, A National Song, by Alfred Tennyson. (Poet Laureate.) The Music Arranged and Edited by C. Villiers Stanford. Price 2s. net.

London: Boosey and Co., 295, Regent Street, W. [1882.]

Folio, stitched, without wrappers.

As issued, the poem originally appearing in The Examiner, for February 7th, 1852.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—The Passing of Arthur.

London: Macmillan & Co., 1884.

16mo, original wrappers, with red lettering.

A reprint of the poem first published in "The Holy Grail," in 1870.

of the poem either in Macmillan's Magazine for April, 1887, or the author's private edition. Only fifty copies were printed.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Carmen Sæculare.

Another copy.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—The Throstle. By Alfred, Lord Tennyson.

London: Macmillan and Co., 1889.

16mo, single sheet folded in two.

The First Edition, as issued, but in a limited number, as only intended for copyright purposes.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—The Death of the Duke of Clarence and Avondale.

[London, 1892.]

Single quarter-sheet folded in two, printed on heavy paper, forming four octavo pages.

The First Edition, printed only for private distribution.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—The Silent Voices. By Alfred Lord Tennyson.

London: Macmillan and Co., and New York, 1892.

12mo, four pages.

The First Edition, issued to secure copyright. This was published the day preceding Tennyson's funeral, October 12th, 1892.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—The Death of Ænone, Akbar's Dream, and Other Poems. By Alfred Lord Tennyson, Poet Laureate.

London: Macmillan and Co., and New York, 1892.

4to, original cloth, uncut.

Large Paper Edition, of only five hundred copies with five steel portraits of the Author.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—The Antechamber. By Alfred Lord Tennyson.

London: Printed for Private Circulation, 1906.

12mo, original wrappers, uncut.

The First Edition, printed from the manuscript, written in 1834. "The Antechamber" is the original form of "The Gardener's Daughter; or The Pictures."

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—A Bibliography of the Writings of Alfred, Lord Tennyson. [By Thomas J. Wise.]

London: Printed for Private Circulation, 1908.

8vo, two volumes, original cloth, uncut.

Only one hundred copies of this bibliography were printed, with many facsimiles and two portraits.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Original Agreement between Lord Tennyson and Henry S. King and Company, concerning the publication of "Queen Mary" and "Harold." Signed in two places. May 7th, 1877.

4to, full morocco.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Autograph Letter Signed. To Archibald Peel. [N. p.], Monday. Addressed on back in Tennyson's writing, also. Regarding Peel's failure to keep an appointment.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Fragment of Manuscript of "The Lover's Tale." The selection is from Part IV, page 498, of the First Edition, 1833.

8vo, blue paper.

On the back is written "A fragment of the Golden Supper in A. Tennyson's autograph. F. Locker. 1883."

"And over all her babe and her the jewels
Of many generations of his house
Sparkled and flash'd, for he had decked them out
As for a solemn sacrifice of love—
So she came in:—I am long in telling it—
I never yet beheld a thing so strange,
Sad, sweet and strange together—floated in—
While all the guests in mute amazement rose—
And slowly pacing to the middle hall,
Before the board, there paused and stood."

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).—Autograph Manuscript of a Portion of "A Lover's Tale."

One page, 8vo.

This portion differs from the published version, and came from the Locker-Lampson collection, and the Harry B. Smith library.

TENNYSON (CHARLES).—Sonnets and Fugitive Pieces. Trinity College, Cambridge, 1830.

16mo, full dark blue morocco, gold tooled, gilt top, uncut, by P. Ruban.

The First Edition.

THACKERAY (WILLIAM MAKEPEACE).—Vanity Fair. A Novel Without a Hero. By William Makepeace Thackeray. With Illustrations on Steel and Wood by the Author.

London: Bradbury and Evans, 11, Bouverie Street, 1847-48.

8vo, twenty parts in nineteen, original paper wrappers, with advertisements, uncut.

CHARLES TEMPLETON CROCKER

The First Issue of the First Edition, and one of the finest copies in America, equalled by possibly only three others, which are in private collections in New York.

- (1) The yellow wrappers are complete.
- (2) The advertisements and "Slips" that were so frequently destroyed or omitted as the work grew in popularity, are each in their proper "Number."
- (3) The interesting first issue "points"; the "Steyne" woodcut, and others, are here without exception.
- (4) The original tissues are practically all between the plates.

Livingston's bibliography of "Vanity Fair" (Boston Transcript Collation) was in error in certain instances. It states the inside front wrapper of Nos. I to XIII, should read "Contents of No. I," etc. In the first five wrappers of the present copy, there is simply the word "Contents." This is quite correct, the numbers being added subsequently, evidently for the sake of uniformity.

The Boston Transcript Collation requires the absence of the square bracket in front of the price on wrapper XVI. This occurs only on undated numbers. This copy is undated and unbracketed.

This Collation also states that the first line inside of the back wrapper of Part X should have the words "Novels" and "Tales" in capitals, differing from Part IX, where these words were evidently in even type with the remainder of the line. This copy agrees in this respect, though some copies are known having the inside of the back wrappers of these parts identical.

The Brayton Ives copy had advertisements in Part IV, four pages,—a repetition of the advertisements in Part II. In this copy, the advertisements are different.

Agreeing with the Boston Transcript Collation, the advertisements at the end of Part XVI are on tinted paper.

Following is a complete and detailed collation of this copy:—

WASHINGTON (GEORGE).—Autograph Letter Signed, to Mrs. Ralph Izard. Mount Vernon, 20th July, 1798.

4to, four pages.

A most interesting and long letter in which Washington touches on the need of Congress establishing a Military Academy.

CHARLES TEMPLETON CROCKER

“Madam, By the last Post I had the honor to receive your favour of the 25th ult. from Charleston, and pray you to be persuaded that no one could hear of the improving state of Mr. Izard’s health, and prospect of his recovery, with more pleasure because few, if any of his acquaintances, regretted the loss of the first more than I did. On the prospect of the latter I sincerely congratulate you, as I do on the safe return of your son; who, if circumstances had permitted, I should have seen with pleasure at this place, on his way to Carolina.

“If I rightly understand the grd. of Mr. Izard’s complaint, I persuade myself that both you and he, upon a reconsideration of the case, and the consequences of a contrary principle in the decisions of the Executive thereon, will readily perceive that no injustice has been done him.

“Usage, and the Policy of States in the establishment of new Corps, are independent of & unconnected with the old. Officers and privates come in together;—the former as a means to obtain the latter, and rarely is otherwise; except to reward meritorious officers, distinguished for signal services, who cannot be advanced in their own corps out of the usual routine of promotion;—but this, when done, is considered as a favour, not claimed as a right; and sometimes proves the reverse, by throwing them out of Service altogether,—New corps being the first for disbandment.—

“But there is another, and more interesting point, in which to view this subject; and proves beyond contradiction, the impossibility of Mr. Izards claim.

“In Military, more so perhaps than in other matters, Principles must be established & adhered to, or discontents wd. be endless, and disorder great. What is right in one case must be right in every case, similarly circumstanced. Upon the principle then that Mr. Izard complains—viz—that it was injurious to make Captains of those who had never served, in the new Corps, while there were officers of inferior grades in the old, let me ask what would be the operation of it in the Army about to be raised; for it applies as forceably to the Infantry, as to the Artillery?

“At present, we have four Regiments of Infantry in existence, twelve are voted to be immediately raised, and if circumstances should require the Provisional Army, nearly double that number will be wanted in addition.—Would it not be a matter of surprise then, and absolutely defeat the measures of Government, if no new Officers were to be appointed in this Army until those of the four Regiments were first provided for?—Certain I am, Madam, that your good sense would be the first to cry yes. The case of Mr. Izard is exactly similar, although the evil would not be in existence.—

“My wishes that Congress would establish a Military Academy, and Corps of Engineers have often been communicated to that Body, and it is to be regretted that the want of many useful Institutions are not seen until they are felt.

WASHINGTON (GEORGE).—Autograph Letter Signed, to Tobias Lear. Mount Vernon, June 29th, 1788.

A most interesting letter from Washington to his private secretary, Tobias Lear. The letter refers to the ratification of the Constitution by the Virginia Legislature in 1788. The Convention met on June 2d, 1788, and the Constitution was finally ratified on June 25th. This delay made Virginia the tenth of the "ten affirmatives" as New Hampshire had already ratified on June 21st, by a vote of 57 to 46. In the second paragraph, "Col. Henley, express from New York on his way to Richmond," undoubtedly refers to the special express arranged by Hamilton and Madison between Concord and Richmond, via Poughkeepsie, so that whichever state decided first the news might be used to influence the other.

In paragraph three, "some recommendatory or declatory rights, etc." These were, as a matter of fact, offered the next day by Henry and others. The letter follows:

"Dear Sir; Your letter of the 2d instant came duly to hand, and obliged me by its communications.—

"On Friday last, (by the Stage), advice of the decision of the long and warmly (with temper) contested question in the Convention of this State, was received—89 ayes—79 noes, without previous amendments;—and in the course of that night, Col. Henley, express from New York on his way to Richmond, arrived in Alexandria with the news of the ratification by the State of New Hampshire—This flood of good news almost at the same moment, gave abundant cause for rejoicing in a place, the Inhabitants of which are all federal.—The Cannon roared, and the Town was illuminated. Yesterday, as magnificent a dinner as Mr. Wise could provide (to which this family were invited and went), was displayed before the principal male Inhabitants of the Town; whose Ears were saluted at every quaff with the Melody of federal Guns. And on Monday, the business it seems is to recommence and finish, with fiddling & dancing, for the amusement & benefit of the Ladies.

"The final question was taken on the 25th.; and some Recommendatory, or declatory rights, it was supposed (by my correspondents in Richmond). would follow the Ratification of the Constitution the next, or following day.—As these two adoptions make ten affirmatives without a negative, and little or no question is made of North Carolina's treading in the steps of Virginia, it is hardly to be conceived that New York will reject it.—Rhode Island hitherto, has so far baffled all calculation, that he must be a hardy man, indeed, who will undertake to declare what will be the choice of the majority of that State, lest he should be suspected of having participated of their phrensy.

"The Aceys. from Richmond are, that the Minority will acquiesce with good grace—Mr. Henry it seems having declared that, though he cannot be reconciled to the Government in its present form, and will give it every constitutional opposition in his power; yet, that he will submit to it peaceably; as every good citizen he thinks ought; and by precept and example will endeavor, within the sphere of his action, to inculcate the like principles in to others.—

"You have the best wishes of every one in this family but of none in a higher degree than those of, Your affect. friend and Obedient Servt. . . . G. Washington.

"Pray offer my Compliments. to Mr. Langdon.

"Mr. Tobias Lear."
